GOING EAST

Passengers from KANSAS, COLORADO, NEW MEXICO, ARIZONA, and CALIFORNIA,

GOING TO CHICAGO,

or any point in the Eastern States, should secure their Tickets by the GREAT CHICAGO, BURLINGTON & QUINCY RAILROAD. The OLD FAVORITE and PRINCIPAL Line between the WEST and the EAST, via KANSAS CITY, ATCHISON, ST. JOSEPH and OMAHA to CHICAGO.

SAFETY, SPEED, SPLENDOR,

Are the three things for which the GREAT BURLINGTON ROUTE has attained a WORLD-WIDE reputation.

For Smoothness of Track, Rapidity of Transit, Immunity from Danger, this Route is not equaled by any other line in the West.

The C. B. & Q. is the GREAT THROUGH CAR LINE, and is universally conceded to be the FINEST EQUIPPED RAILROAD IN THE WORLD for all classes of travel.

Entire Trains, Composed of ELEGANT DAY COACHES, PARLOR CHAIR CARS, DINING CARS, PULLMAN SLEEPING CARS, are run through WITHOUT CHANGE. Always travel by the best; it costs no more than by inferior lines.

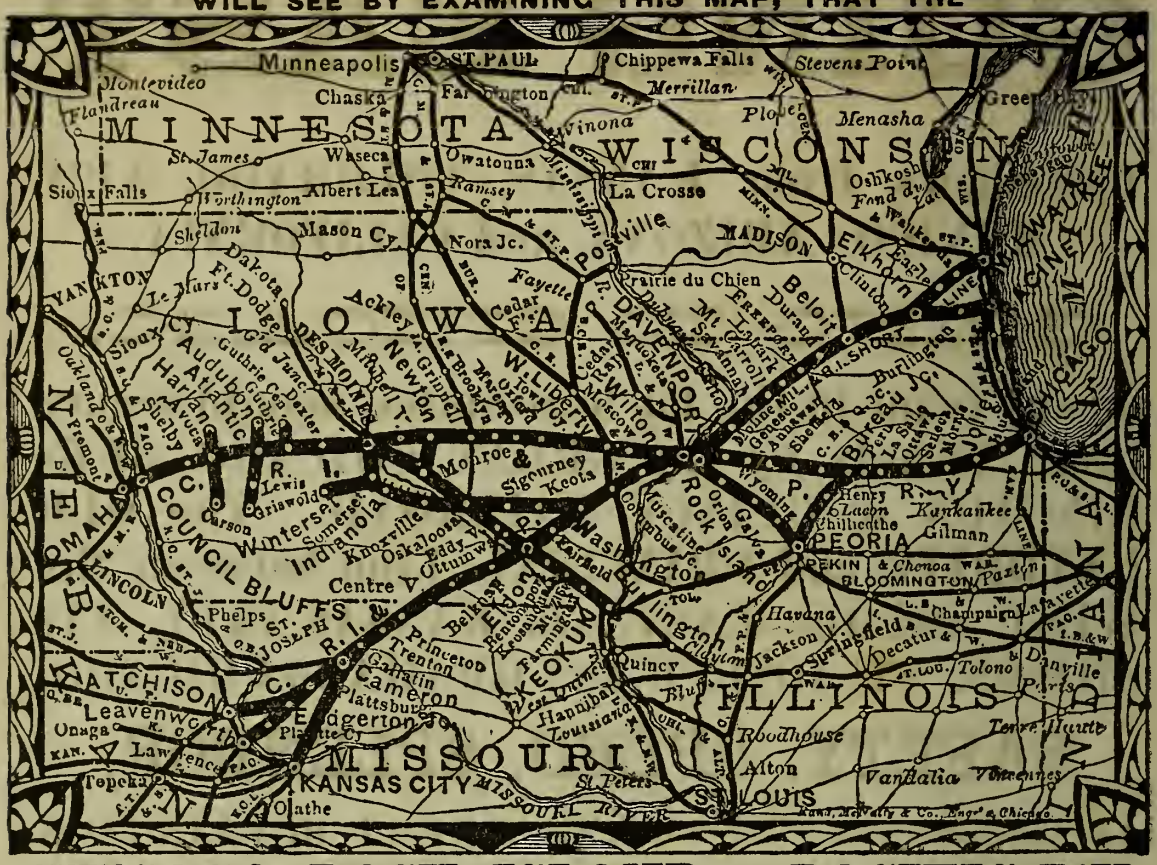
A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE



CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

Is The Great Connecting Link between the East and the West!

Its main line runs from Chicago to Council Bluffs, passing through Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline, Rock Island, Davenport, West Liberty, Iowa City, Marengo, Brooklyn, Grinnell, Des Moines (the capital of Iowa), Stuart, Atlantic, and Avoca: with branches from Bureau Junction to Peoria; Wilton Junction to Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield Eldon, Belknap, Centreville, Princeton, Trenton, Gallatin, Cameron, Leavenworth, Atchison, and Kansas City; Washington to Sigourney, Oskaloosa, and Knoxville; Keokuk to Farmington, Bonaparte, Bentonsport, Independent, Eldon, Ottumwa, Eddyville, Oskaloosa, Pella, Monroe, and Des Moines; Mt. Zion to Keosauqua; Newton to Monroe; Des Moines to Indianola and Winterset; Atlantic to Griswold and Audubon; and Avoca to Harlan and Carson. This is positively the only Railroad, which owns, and operates a through line from Chicago into the State of Kansas.

Through Express Passenger Trains, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, are run each way daily between CHICAGO and PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, COUNCIL BLUFFS, LEAVENWORTH and, ATCHISON. Through cars are also run between Milwaukee and Kansas City, via the "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line."

The "Great Rock Island" is magnificently equipped. Its road bed is simply perfect, and its track is laid with steel rails.

What will please you most will be the pleasure of enjoying your meals, while passing over the beautiful prairies of Illinois and Iowa, in one of our magnificent Dining Cars that accompany all Through Express Trains. You get an entire meal, as good as is served in any first-class hotel, for seventy-five cents.

Appreciating the fact that a majority of the people prefer separate apartments for different purposes (and the immense passenger business of this line warranting it), we are pleased to announce that this Company runs Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars for sleeping purposes, and Palace Dining Cars for eating purposes only. One other great feature of our Palace Cars is a SMOKING SALOON where you can enjoy your "Havana" at all hours of the day.

Magnificent Iron Bridges span the Mississippi and Missouri rivers at all points crossed by this line, and transfers are avoided at Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, connections being made in Union Depots.

The principal R. R. connections of this great Through Line are as follows:

At CHICAGO, with all diverging lines for the East and South.

At ENGLEWOOD, with the L.S. & M.S., and P., Ft. W. & C. R. Rds.

At LA SALLE, with Ill. Cent. R. R.

At PEORIA, with P. P. & J.; P. D. & E.; I. B. & W.; Ill. Mid.; and T. P. & W. Rds.

At ROCK ISLAND, with "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line," and Rock Isl'd & Peo. Rds.

At DAVENPORT, with the Davenport Division C. M. & St. P. R. R.

At WEST LIBERTY, with the B. C. R. & N.R.R.

At GRINNELL, with Central Iowa R. R.

At DES MOINES, with D. M. & F, D. R. R.

At COUNCIL BLUFFS, with Union Pacific R.R.

At OMAHA, with B. & Mo. R. R.R. (In Neb.)

At COLUMBUS JUNCTION, with B,C.R.&N.R.R.

At OTTUMWA, with Central Iowa R. R.; W., St. L. & Pac., and C., B. and Q. R. Rds.

At KEOKUK, with Tol., Peo. & War.; Wab.,St. Louis & Pac., and St. L., Keo, & N. W. R. Rds.

At CAMERON, with H. St. J. R. R.

At ATCHISON, with Atch.,Topeka & Santa Fe; Atch. & Neb., and Cen. Br. U. P. R. Rds.

At LEAVENWORTH, with Union Pac. and Kan. Cent. R. Rds.

At KANSAS CITY, with all lines for the West and Southwest.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS are run through to PEORIA, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, KANSAS CITY, ATCHISON, and LEAVENWORTH.

Tickets via this Line, known as the 'Great Rock Island Route," are sold by all Ticket Agents in the United States and Canada.

A New Line to the East.

The Burlington & Missouri River R. R. is now extending its line to Denver, and with its eastern connection, the C. B. & Q. R R., will shortly open to the public a through line from Colorado to the East, known as

THE BURLINGTON ROUTE.

All Under One Management.

DENVER TO

CHICAGO, ST. LOUIS, OMAHA, KANSAS CITY, ST. Joseph, Atchison, Rock Island, and other points in Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, and the East.

The Denver Extension of 240 miles was put under way in the summer of 1881, and since that time has been steadily pushed forward, and to-day there remains less than 100 miles yet to build.

Pullman Parlor Cars and Sleepers of the latest and most handsome designs have been ordered for the new line. New and comfortable day coaches are now being prepared. The management recognizing the serious annoyance the public experience at the eating stations on the different lines, are now building commodious and handsome hotels for this purpose on its Nebraska lines, and will themselves superintend the running of them for the comfort and proper entertainment of the passengers, and charge but REASONABLE PRICES.

C. B. & Q. DINING CARS, so well known to the traveling public, will be run on all Denver trains East of Missouri River.

It is expected that the track will be ready, coaches, sleeping cars, and parlor cars, hotels, etc. completed, to enable the Company to OPEN FOR BUSINESS JULY 1, 1882.

Due notice of progress will be given through the press from time to time, and any information as to distances, etc., maps furnished, upon application to

Through Time To or From California, Shorter than by any other Route.

W. F. WHITE,

General Passenger and Ticket Agent,

Topeka, Kansas.

IF YOU ARE GOING EAST,

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW ALL ABOUT THE

"New Colossus of Roads."

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé,

Which, in connection with the Southern Pacific, forms the BEST Route from San Francisco through Southern California, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, and Kansas to all points East. The principal eastern termini are Atchison and Kansas City, where connections are made with a dozen Trunk lines, extending through the north, east, and south.

EQUIPMENT.

This line is one of the best equipped routes of travel in the United States. The track of the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fé is laid for the most part with steel rails and securely ballasted. Elegant day coaches and luxurious Pullman sleepers make up the regular passenger trains. These cars are provided with every modern device for safety and comfort. Emigrant passengers on this route enjoy a luxury in the shape of the emigrant sleeping cars, which are run on all emigrant trains without extra charge. The general plan of their construction is similar to that of the Pullman sleepers, except that they are not upholstered. By providing their own blankets, and whatever other bedding they desire, they may make excellent beds for themselves, and sleep as comfortably as if they were at home.

FEATURES OF THIS ROUTE.

This route passes through the cities of Los Angeles, Tucson, Benson, Deming—where the A. T. & S. F. and Southern Pacific roads unite—Santa Fé, Albuquerque, Socorro, Las Vegas—where is located that popular health and pleasure resort, the Las Vegas Hot Springs—Raton, Trinidad, Pueblo, and the best towns of Kansas. The country traversed comprises some of the finest mineral and richest agricultural and graz ing lands in the United States, and at the same time is rich in the architectural ruins and traditions of pre-historic races. New Mexico and Arizona are full of interest to the traveler.

ALL THE YEAR ROUND.

While more northern latitudes are subject to severe storms during the winter, often causing long and vexatious delays to travel, the Santa Fé route is never blocked by snow, but is open for business every day and "all the year round."

The eating houses on the line of the A., T. & S. F. are the best on any western road.

THE NEW SANITARIUM.

Passengers by the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fé will find the Hot Springs at Las Vegas a delightful resting place on their journey. The curative properties of these waters are not surpassed in the United States for diseases of the blood, lung diseases, rheumatism, dyspepsia, nervous disorders, etc. These Springs have all the healing properties of the Arkansas Hot Springs, without their hot, malarial climate. The atmosphere is a clear and invigorating mountain air, the elevation being 6,500 feet. There are twenty-two hot springs—with temperatures ranging from 110° to 140°—and one cold sulphur spring in the group. They are located at the mouth of the Gallinas Canyon on the Gallinas River, some even appearing in the bed of the stream. The excellent hotel accommodations already provided will be increased April 1st, by the opening of a new hotel, one of the best houses in the West. It will have a capacity of nearly 300 rooms. The bath house has a capacity of five hundred baths daily, and is complete in all its appointments. The hunting and trout fishing in the immediate neighborhood are excellent, and these attractions, together with the mild, equable climate, make the Las Vegas Hot Springs a pleasant resort for both invalids and pleasure seekers at all seasons of the year.

PREFACE.

WE take pleasure in presenting to our patrons—who represent, the leading, wide-awake business houses of the territory covered by this volume—a Directory which, in magnitude, has never before been attempted. Besides the compilation of names, we have taken especial care to preface every State, Territory, city, and town of importance with a careful sketch, giving a description of its geographical location, the contiguous country, business advantages, climate, etc., which will be found highly interesting to any one desiring a perfect knowledge of the country which we have visited. The substantial acknowledgment of our services which has been tendered us by the business public, is well exemplified by the crowded condition of our advertising space, and the immense edition necessary to supply subscribers. The great number of copies of this large volume, which will be distributed in the territory canvassed, gives our advertisers an immense circulation, bringing them prominently before hundreds of thousands of intelligent people, at a rate far below any other known method of advertising. In typographical appearance it will compare favorably with any of the great publications of the day, and in absolute correctness it will prove a work of the utmost utility to the business public. We submit the volume to the people of these great States and Territories, and invite the criticism of all, believing that it will pass the ordeal unscathed, and receive a generous welcome from its patrons.

We send forth our work, fully realizing that perfection is unattainable; yet so carefully and thoroughly has the labor been performed, that it will certainly prove to be generally correct and satisfactory.

In compiling this volume we have given our particular attention to what has heretofore been considered as only a secondary matter. Appreciating the fact that the mere insertion of matter in a work of this nature is not enough, if the arrangement of it cannot be readily comprehended, we have endeavored to arrange each portion in natural and intelligent order, and so greatly facilitate reference. It is easily understood how essential is our alphabetical list of names, as an index, as it were, to the classified headings.

An acknowledgment of our obligations is due to the various railroad, steamship and stage line officials for their many acts of kindness in lessening our labors, and promoting the interests of our book in other ways. Our sincere thanks are also due county officials, postmasters and other co-workers for their zeal in expediting the progress of our work.

THE MAIL STEAM JOB PRINTING HOUSE

224 Main Street, Stockton, Cal.

Most elaborately equipped job office outside of San Francisco. Our stock of cuts, borders, and fancy and artistic engravings is complete and of the latest patterns, with a view to meet the requirements of all classes of work. Briefs and Transcripts, and all kinds of legal printing done with accuracy and dispatch. Printing of every conceivable kind done as neatly and cheaply as work can be done. We beg to impress upon the minds of the citizens of Stockton and adjoining towns, that we have the largest and most complete Job Printing Establishment in the State, outside of San Francisco. We have four fast presses, driven by steam power, the combined capacity of which is 75,000 impressions per day, or more than double that of all the offices in the San Joaquin Valley combined.

POSTER TYPE!

We have the largest assortment outside of San Francisco, enabling us to turn out as large a poster as can be done in the largest cities, and at equally low rates.

SOUTH PACIFIC COAST

Narrow Guage line from San Francisco to Santa Cruz, via Alameda, San Jose, and Los Gatos, passes through Alameda, Santa Clara and Santa Cruz Counties. Although it is a narrow guage, the rails are of heavy H pattern. The road-bed, bridges, steam ferry-boats (on the San Francisco end) and all buildings are of the most permanent character. Great praise is due the company for this enterprise. They have surmounted many difficulties, at an enormous cost, in making a route through the formidable Santa Cruz Mountains, which have seemed to defy rail-road construction heretofore. No less than seven tunnels—bored through rock, sometimes as hard as adamant, and aggregating three and one-half miles in length—were found nccessary in the last twenty miles. The indefatigable projectors are to be congratulated on the success of their scheme, for it is, with a few exceptions, the greatest work of the kind in America. The scenery along the route from bay to bay is a series of agreeable and picturesque surprises, and the solidity of its construction insures safety, speed, and comfort to travelers.

SANTA MARIA AND SAN LUIS OBISPO,

Eleven miles in length, running from San Luis Obispo to Port Harford, the coast landing connecting with steamer each way every five days.

SANTA CRUZ RAILROAD,

A short line of twenty miles from Pajaro to Santa Crux—a most picturesque line skirting the beautiful Monterey Bay. It is now incorporated with the Northern Division of the Southern Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO.

See, also, List Received too Late for Regular Insertion.

To the classified lists of business embraced under this head we have devoted a large portion of our attention. After making a thorough canvass of this great metropolis, visiting each and all places of business, and taking notes of the principal articles dealt in and business done in each (no easy task when it is considered that there are over 12,000 individuals and firms doing business) we have made a compilation by which may be seen at a glance all those dealing in certain lines and practicing in certain professions, in alphabetical lists.

This convenient arrangement will, we hope, meet with its proper appreciation in the interior towns where the book is used.

The growth of San Francisco, and her rapid strides in commercial importance, have excited the wonder of the civilized world. Thirty-two years ago, only, the present site of this handsomely-built city was a barren waste, a fact that would be doubted were it not known by thousands who are still comparatively young. She has risen to the rank of first-class among American cities in a few short years.

It will not appear strange, however, to those who are acquainted with the advantages which she has always enjoyed, that she should so advance. She is eligibly situated as the western outlet and entrepot of the United States, and is the market and depot for all the prolific States and Territories of the Pacific Coast, which tract comprises nearly one-third of the Union. Her prospective position as the second city of the United States is well supported by the argument which a steady, uninterrupted flow of emigration offers. Every additional mile of rail-road track laid, either as a trunk line or a feeder to it, in the direction of the Pacific, will add glory to this promising young metropolis. The matter of home manufactories is just now being seriously agitated by those having the interests of the coast at heart, with important substantial results. Factories must spring up for the manufacture of home products, and then will the much bruited question, "Why does not the Pacific Coast partake of some of the prosperity enjoyed by the East?" be answered. Houses more numerous than those already here must be opened to accommodate the increasing trade, and other institutions so essential to a great city must speedily follow.

San Francisco possesses every convenience and comfort usually enjoyed by the greatest cities. Her streets are all brilliantly illuminated by gas and electric light, and traversed by innumerable street railroads, running in every conceivable direction, which run also with great velocity over steep hills by means of the much-prized wire cable system. Her places of amusement, schools, churches, newspapers, banks, and other institutions, are all of the first order. Among her hotels, which are unsurpassed for elegance and magnitude, as a whole, she boasts of the largest caravansary in the world, erected and equipped at a cost of $8,000,000. Her parks, with one exception, are small but handsome, and appropriately located. The Golden Gate Park, reclaimed from the sand-hills at an enormous expenditure, is four miles in length, and possesses a conservatory rich with exotics and rare plants, as well as a system of serpentine drives that are always in perfect condition.

A retrospective glance at the advance of our beautiful Bay City will reveal to us a picture of her as she may be expected to appear in the near future.

To Females Sick or in Trouble.

The Following Medical Advice is of Importance to the Sex,

Will clearly show to those who are sick or unfortunate, where they can find one who can feel for them as a father, and sympathize with and succor them in distress, and in whom they

CAN HAVE THE UTMOST CONFIDENCE.

LOOKING upon the misfortunes of the sex as demanding the most earnest sympathies of man, for whom she suffers so much, the Doctor would stretch out to them a helping hand to aid and direct them into the path of health. Having been for so many years a PROFESSOR OF OBSTETRICS AND FEMALE DISEASES, and fully qualified by his extensive practice in hospital, office and families to treat all their peculiar complaints, both medically and surgically, he can assure them of his skillful treatment, and rapid and permanent cures.

Being aware that very much of the suffering the sex sustains is through the incompetence of the general medical adviser, the Doctor is prepared to accommodate ladies who wish to come from the interior for treatment at his

Private Female and Lying-in Hospital,

Where they will receive the attention of the most skillful nurses and the advantages of constant medical attendance. Apartments privately arranged so that only the Doctor is seen.

To those who wish to be cured at home, the remedies, with directions complete in every particular, can be sent with perfect security.

All letters are returned or destroyed. Consultation free. Cure always guaranteed.

FRENCH LUNAR, OR FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS,

For Suppressions, Retentions, Painful, Partial or Exuberant Menstruation, Affections of the Womb, Chlorosis, all Female Weaknesses, all troubles of the Urinary or Generative Organs, Hysteria, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, etc.

A MOST VALUABLE DINNER PILL,

Compounded from the original private prescription of Dr. J. C. Young.

THESE CELEBRATED PILLS

After fifty years of trial, stand unrivaled in their efficacy. They are innocent, yet potent. They can be used with the most perfect safety by the most delicate.

They Contain no Mineral Substance Whatever.

Sent to any address, by mail or express, upon receipt of $5.00.

A BOON TO THE SICK.

SAFE, RELIABLE AND HEALTHFUL. INNOCENT YET POTENT.

Preventive Powders for Married Ladies.

They place within the reach of all the power of control. To those delicate females to whom childbirth is a menace, it is an incomparable blessing. They curtail no privileges, and can be used without hesitation and with perfect safety.

Price, $5.00 per Box. Sent by Mail or Express.

DR. YOUNG'S JUSTLY CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES.

These remedies have stood the test of sixty years, and their efficacy has become thoroughly established in thousands of families. They are so harmless that the most delicate may use them, while they are sure to go directly to the purpose for which they are prescribed. Call or address

DR. J. C. YOUNG, Medical Institute,

(P. O. Box, 1470.) No. 7, Stockton St., San Francisco, Cal.

A CRYING EVIL.

There is no greater evil presented to the public to-day, than the claim that can relieve or cure cases of CHRONIC DEBILITY arising from sexual troubles. This will at once become apparent to the least informed, if they will stop to consider the great difference that exists in the various forms such debility assumes and the variety of changes they undergo.

PATENT MEDICINES

AND PATENT APPLIANCES,

for the same purpose are equally futile. Both, as regards the medicines and the appliances, it may be said that if they are good at all, they cannot, from the very nature of the disease, be good for all phases. It is an axiom in medicine that there are no specifics. What is of benefit in one phase or stage may be, and frequently is, an injury in another phase or stage: what will do one person good may be, and frequently is, detrimental to another. These remedies and appliances

WILL NOT CURE.

There is required a knowledge of the stage of the complaint, the symptoms characterizing it, the peculiarities of the patient, the cause or causes of the debility, the history of the weakness, etc., and without which the most skillful physician cannot expect to combat successfully and overcome that most fearful of troubles,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

If one suffering from its effects will pause and reflect, he will see at once that the one who has emissions with greater or less vigor does not require the same treatment as the one who has them in a dribbling manner, and that such ones need still different treatment from the one who is impotent and broken down. At one time, full, sustaining treatment is imperatively demanded; at another, equalization of forces is required, while at all times, SPECIAL SYMPTOMS must be met and overcome. It is absurd—it is more, for it is criminal—to suggest that any one remedy or appliance will cure all phases or changes; on the contrary, they can

BUT DO DIRECT INJURY,

If taken or used at all, and will utterly ruin if persisted in. Those who are afflicted should not thus endeavor to cure themselves of a complaint that requires the best skill, care and attention to overcome, demanding the study, thought and practice of years to comprehend and to successfully treat.

The Sick Should Heed the Warning,

And submit their cases only to one who is competent to advise and direct the treatment, and not aggravate the complaint by outraging the stomach and system by patent decoctions and mechanical appliances.

To the Afflicted Residing in the Interior.

My system of treatment is such that the same success marks its course when conducted by letter as by personal interview. Indeed, the greater number of my patients have never visited the Institute, but have had advice and remedies forwarded to them by mail or express. The patient is thus enabled to preserve the secret of his complaint, as all letters are returned or destroyed. All that is required is to inclose that part of the advertisement mentioning the troubles of the writer, and full and complete directions, including remedies, can be forwarded at once.

Seminal Weakness—See pages 1, 7, 9, 26, 33, 35.

Females Sick or in Trouble—See pages 15, 16, 23, 27.

MRS. MARTIN,

LADIES' PHYSICIAN,

Has opened a private home for

LADIES IN CONFINEMENT,

Where patients from the country can be attended. The confidence of ladies will meet with that respect and sympathy that only one woman can show to another. Testimonials at office.

MRS. MARTIN,

What a few of the prominent parties who have used our Sweepers in San Francisco say of it. We refer you to the Palace Hotel.—"We would not be without Figer Bros.' Patent California Carpet Sweeper at any price. We have used them for the past year, and it can't be beat."

Mr. G. Schonewald, Manager Hotel del Monte, says: "It is the only perfect Carpet Sweeper I have ever seen."

Miss Rooney, Housekeeper Lick House, says that the California Carpet Sweeper is the only Sweeper that she ever used that was good for anything. She would not be without it for any money. They have nine Sweepers in the Hotel.

Mr. Rosenthal, Janitor Covenant Hall, 119 Eddy St., says: "Your Carpet Sweeper is perfect; the only one I ever used that is really good."

Mr. Thomas Henderson, Janitor Halleck's Block, 320 Sansome St., says: "I advise every one I know to buy one of your Sweepers. I tell them they will never regret it. You can refer any one to me, as the Sweeper deserves the best recommendation, and I'll freely give it."

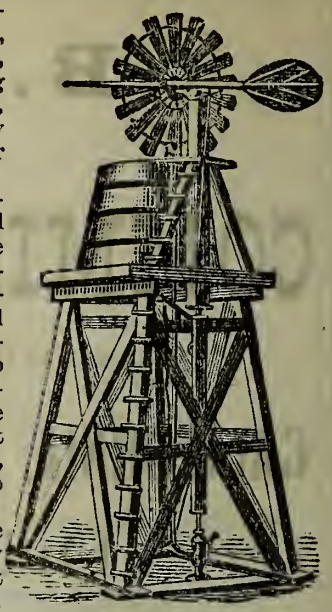
SELF-REGULATING WIND-MILS
—AND—
HORSE-POWERS.
—ALSO,—
Tanks and all kinds of Pumping Machinery

Factory and Office, 51 BEALE ST., bet. Market and Mission, San Francisco.

Krogh's Patent, latest improved self-regulating Windmill, and first premium Horse-Power, for all purposes, such as pumping water, chopping feed, churning, sawing wood, running machinery for manufacturing, mechanical or other purposes.

Our latest improved self-regulating Windmill was patented March 15, 1881, is warranted to be the best wind machine ever invented, very simple in construction, strong and durable, will pump more water than any windmill now in use, and once put up they require no attention whatever except oiling. They are built to withstand and adapt themselves to the fury of the gale, as well as to light breezes, and to work steadily WITHOUT EXPENSE.



Our Horse-Powers are complete in every detail, and possess every improvement and advantage that can be combined in such machines. They are provided with air-tight, dust-proof, self-oiling journals. Two men can take either of them apart and put them together with ease.

Tanks, Pumps, Pipes, Pulley, Shafting, &c

FOR NICE CLEAR COFFEE

USE THE

AMERICAN COFFEE POT

The Superiority of the American Coffee Pot over others in use is in the Strainer—the cup with a cloth bottom being used in place of a bag—or perforated tin. It filters better than either for the reason that the boiling water must pass through the coffee instead of through the sides of the bag, if a bag is used, and must filter with less sediment and much faster than a tin perforated bottom. It is much easier cleaned or renewed than a bag, and will not corrode or wear out like the tin. The bottom being so easily renewed without expense or trouble, a new or clean one can be put on every few days.

For sale by dealers in Tinware generally.

THE QUADRUPLE WONDERS!

Thomas' Cool Water Bleaching Soap,

THE "EIGHTH WONDER."

In the realm of Soap, "Thomas Cool Water Bleaching Soap" stands alone, peerless, unrivaled and unapproachable. Its name has become a household word, its virtues have flown on the wings of the wind. Its remarkable success has stimulated a legion of base imitations, of which beware, and purchase none that does not bear the imprint of the Standard Soap Company.

KANE'S CONDENSED SOAP. LA BELLE SAVON. BEST SOAP.

The above four celebrated Brands have revolutionized the Soap business, and have immortalized the Standard Soap Company. They are now familiarly known as "The Quadruple Wonders." In purchasing either or all of them you will be sure to have the best. Do not be deceived by the cheap imitations, but insist on having the goods made by the Standard Soap Company, 204 Sacramento Street, San Francisco, Cal.

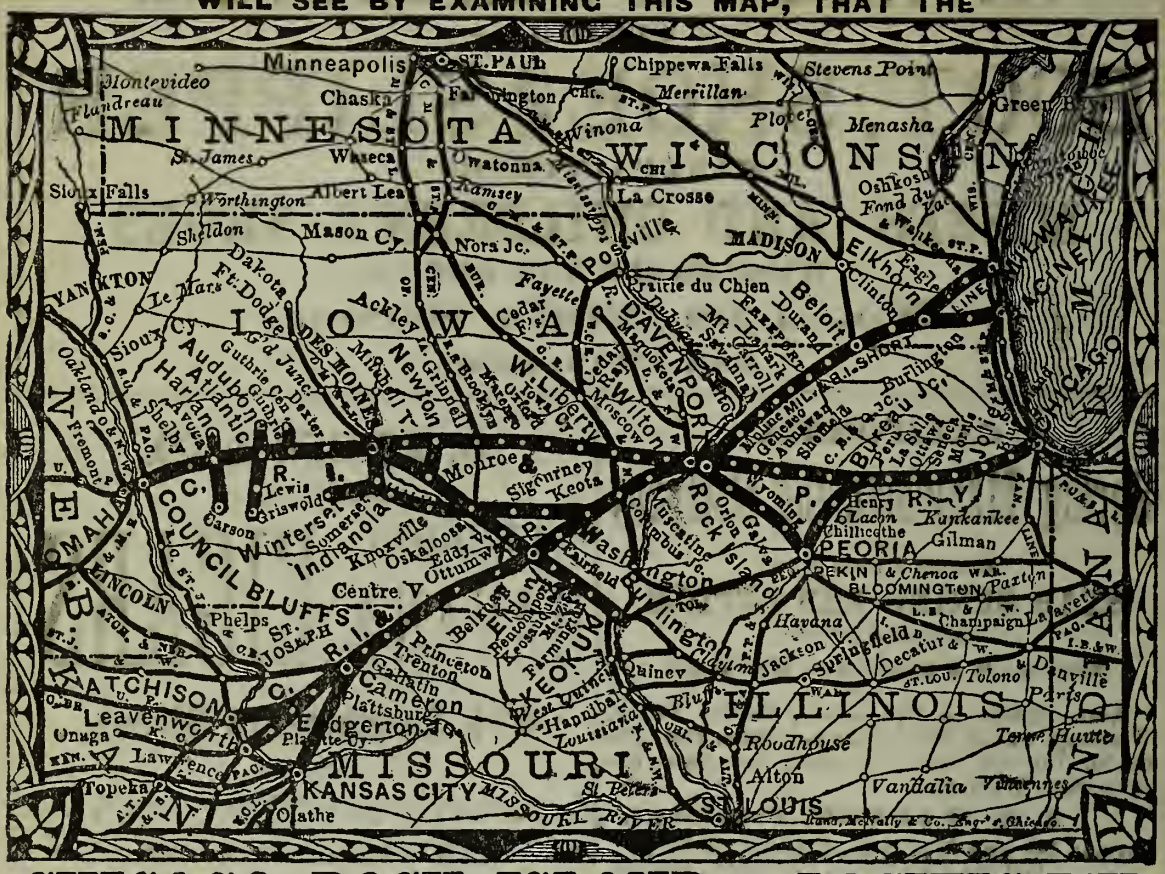
A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE



CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

Is The Great Connecting Link between the East and the West!

Its main line runs from Chicago to Council Bluffs, passing through Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline, Rock Island, Davenport, West Liberty, Iowa City, Marengo, Brooklyn, Grinnell, Des Moines (the capital of Iowa), Stuart, Atlantic, and Avoca: with branches from Bureau Junction to Peoria; Wilton Junction to Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield Eldon, Belknap, Centreville, Princeton, Trenton, Gallatin, Cameron, Leavenworth, Atchison, and Kansas City; Washington to Sigourney, Oskaloosa, and Knoxville; Keokuk to Farmington, Bonaparte, Bentonsport, Independent, Eldon, Ottumwa, Eddyville, Oskaloosa, Pella, Monroe, and Des Moines; Mt. Zion to Keosauqua; Newton to Monroe; Des Moines to Indianola and Winterset; Atlantic to Griswold and Audubon; and Avoca to Harlan and Carson. This is positively the only Railroad, which owns, and operates a through line from Chicago into the State of Kansas.

Through Express Passenger Trains, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, are run each way daily between CHICAGO and PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, COUNCIL BLUFFS, LEAVENWORTH and ATCHISON. Through cars are also run between Milwaukee and Kansas City, via the "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line."

The "Great Rock Island" is magnificently equipped. Its road bed is simply perfect, and its track is laid with steel rails.

What will please you most will be the pleasure of enjoying your meals, while passing over the beautiful prairies of Illinois and Iowa, in one of our magnificent Dining Cars that accompany all Through Express Trains. You get an entire meal, as good as is served in any first-class hotel, for seventy-five cents.

Appreciating the fact that a majority of the people prefer separate apartments for different purposes (and the immense passenger business of this line warranting it), we are pleased to announce that this Company runs Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars for sleeping purposes, and Palace Dining Cars for eating purposes only. One other great feature of our Palace Cars is a SMOKING SALOON where you can enjoy your "Havana" at all hours of the day.

Magnificent Iron Bridges span the Mississippi and Missouri rivers at all points crossed by this line, and transfers are avoided at Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, connections being made in Union Depots.

The principal R. R. connections of this great Through Line are as follows:

At CHICAGO, with all diverging lines for the East and South.

At ENGLEWOOD, with the L.S. & M.S., and P., Ft. W. & C. R. Rds.

At LA SALLE, with Ill. Cent. R. R.

At PEORIA, with P. P. & J.; P. D. & E.; I. B. & W.; Ill. Mid.; and T. P. & W. Rds.

At ROCK ISLAND, with "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line," and Rock Isl'd & Peo. Rds.

At DAVENPORT, with the Davenport Division C. M. & St. P. R. R.

At WEST LIBERTY, with the B. C. R. & N. R. R.

At GRINNELL, with Central Iowa R. R.

At DES MOINES, with D. M. & F. D. R. R.

At COUNCIL BLUFFS, with Union Pacific R.R.

At OMAHA, with B. & Mo. R. R. R. (in Neb.)

At COLUMBUS JUNCTION, with B. C. R. & N. R. R.

At OTTUMWA, with Central Iowa R. R.; W., St. L. & Pac., and C., B. and Q. R. Rds.

At KEOKUK, with Tol., Peo. & War.; Wab., St. Louis & Pac., and St. L., Keo, & N. W. R. Rds.

At CAMERON, with H. St. J. R. R.

At ATCHISON, with Atch., Topeka & Santa Fe; Atch. & Neb., and Cen. Br. U. P. R. Rds.

At LEAVENWORTH, with Union Pac. and Kan. Cent. R. Rds.

At KANSAS CITY, with all lines for the West and Southwest.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS are run through to PEORIA, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, KANSAS CITY, ATCHISON, and LEAVENWORTH.

Tickets via this Line, known as the "Great Rock Island Route," are sold by all Ticket Agents in the United States and Canada.

ARIZONA.

ALPHABETICALLY.

ARIZONA has for its sister States and Territories, Utah on the north, New Mexico on the East, Sonora of Old Mexico on the south, California and Nevada on the west. Its area is as much as all of the New England States put together, and two to three times as large as almost any one of the Western States.

Of all the Territories of the United States there are none that are exciting more interest than Arizona. Although it has been known for many years that her mountains are teeming with minerals, very few have had the courage to face the trials of a settlement there. Her remoteness from commercial centers, and the expense attached to the transportation of articles of use, have always been an obstacle to her development. Since the advent of the Southern Pacific Railroad, however, a flow of the tide of immigration has set in toward the new El Dorado. The railroad is certainly entitled to the credit of civilizing this dependency, and to its presence alone a development of her resources is attributable. The time is not far distant, we predict, when her claims to Statehood will be recognized, for very soon she will be the possessor of a population that will entitle her to admission to the Union. This is in the face of all the set-backs that Arizona has suffered from. In the first place, exaggerated stories have gone forth of the state of society and the laxity of law in the Territory. These reports have grown from the old story of a bar-room fight or an old woman's account of a stage robbery into the direst outrage by the time they have reached the outside world. We are sorry to say that the machinery of the law does not work as smoothly as it should sometimes, and wonder that more organized efforts are not made for improvement, when it is so plain that the report of any dereliction will spread more rapidly than an account of any of the Territory's advantages; but after a sojourn in several of the frontier towns during the past season, we can safely say that life and property are as much respected and as safe there as in any similarly constituted community we know of. The climate of the Territory is equable, and her altitude is an assurance against disease. The mines of the Territory are as yet undeveloped, though capital seeking investment is by no means timid. Notwithstanding that the mines of Arizona are generally in their infancy, more bullion has been produced in proportion to the money invested than in any other mining district except California.

Now that machinery for mills and mining can be brought into the Territory at something like a reasonable price for transportation, we expect to see some wonderful productions. Prospectors are swarming through the gulches and on the mountain sides, locating claims, and immigration is rapidly coming in. In view of the grand future that is so probably in store for Arizona, the better class of citizens should see to it that no stumbling-block is in the way of her progress. Vices grow by what they feed on, and unchecked hoodlumism in time would become as bold and serious as the foreign reports have it. Then the remedy for it might be worse than the disease; for now it only needs efficient officers of the law to do their simple duty.

There is in many quarters of the Territory an abundance of fine timber, and in the manufacture of lumber to supply the heavy demand for building purposes an army of men is engaged. If a diversity of resources such as Arizona is fast becoming noted for can contribute to a rapid and permanent growth, then her near future will be crowned with that glory. Her destiny will place her in the front rank of the prosperous States.

It is noticeable how little effort is being made, except by the territorial newspapers, to advertise Arizona, when so little is known and so many inquiries being made about her topography and resources. Colorado and New Mexico have their Bureau of information for immigrants, sending out car-loads of printed matter, the value of which returns in sevenfold.

The bullion output of Arizona in 1881, as far as heard from, was $9,085,679—$5,149,129 from the Tombstone District alone. The copper output was 8,098,495 pounds. The Tucson Star predicts that the silver and gold bullion output for 1882 will reach $25,000,000, and the copper output over 40,000,000 pounds, as that industry is yet in its infancy.

Prescott is the capital. The laws of the Territory are similar to California. Arizona lies between latitude 31° and 37° north, and longitude 109° and 114° 40′ west; 67,098,366 of its 72,906,240 acres are unsurveyed. The part lying north of the Gila was acquired by the treaty with Mexico. Arizona became a Territory in 1863, prior to which time it was a part of New Mexico. It is divided into ten counties. Mountain ranges are numerous, having a northwest and southeast course. Mount San Francisco, a volcanic cone, is 11,000 feet above the level of the sea. The Colorado, a remarkable river, is the largest one of the Territory, and finds its beginning in Utah. It flows southerly along the western border, emptying its waters into the Gulf of California. It has worn its bed to such an extent that some of its banks are perpendicular walls 7,000 feet high. Steamers traverse its waters for a distance of 612 miles. The building of the Southern Pacific gave great impetus to the business of Arizona. This company have 380 miles of road crossing from west to east.

Phœnix,

MARICOPA COUNTY.

Phœnix, the county seat of Maricopa County, is located in north latitude, 33 deg. 18 min. and longitude 112 deg., time two hours and twenty minutes slower than Washington. It is located two miles north of Salt River, in the center of the valley of the same name, and has been the seat of government since the formation of the county, Feb. 4, 1871. The town site of Phœnix covers an area one mile long and one-half mile wide. It was surveyed in the latter part of 1870. The streets fronting on the plaza are 100 feet wide, the balance are 80. The streets run at right angles with the cardinal points of the compass. The blocks are 300 feet square. Owing to its close proximity to the best developed mining districts in the Territory, its location as a base of supplies is unequaled. Over 5,000,000 pounds of flour was manufactured here during the present season. The town is amply supplied with churches and educational facilities. It has a handsome new school house, costing $15,000. The Masons, Odd Fellows, Red Men and Good Templars are organized, and have large lists of members, Population about 2,500. The county contains over 6,000 inhabitants. The principal industries of the surrounding country are farming, mining and stock-raising. Phœnix is located in what is generally considered the finest agricultural valley in the Territory.

Prescott,

YAVAPAI COUNTY.

Is the Territorial capital and county seat of Yavapai County, is beautifully and healthfully situated in a mountainous flat surrounded by groves of stately pines, at an altitude a trifle over a mile above the sea level. The surrounding mountain tops are snow-capped, and breezes wafted from their heights to the valley below are loaded with a freshness that often drive the people from the streets to the refuge of their household firesides. Prescott is decidedly an American town, and her buildings, both public and private, are models of comfort and elegance. The surrounding forests of pine furnish material of superior quality in abundance. Her chief resources are mining, stock raising and lumber manufacturing. Her great disadvantage is her isolated position, which it is believed will shortly be overcome by the establishment of railroad connection that is now made a probability in the construction of a line from Santa Fé, N. M. Whipple Barracks, one of the pleasantest military stations in the Territory, is situated about three quarters of a mile from Prescott. Prescott is reached by Gilmer, Salisbury & Co.'s stage coaches from Maricopa, on the S. P. R. R., at a distance of 150 miles. The population of Prescott is estimated at 3,000.

LAS VEGAS HOT SPRINGS.

These springs rise not far from the mouth of a beautiful canon, which opens upon the plains six miles above the city of Las Vegas. Here nature has provided a temperate and healthful climate, and distills through the earth streams of hot water endowed with subtile powers for healing many of the ills flesh is heir to. There are twenty-two of these thermal fountains, varying in temperature from 110° to 140° Fahr. The waters are almost exactly like those of the long celebrated springs of Karlsbad in Europe, both in quantitative and qualitative analyses. The altitude of Las Vegas is 6,400 feet—higher than Mt. Washington—and the atmosphere is clear, pure and invigorating; malarial poisons are impossible.

Art could not have designed a more picturesque location than that provided by nature for these life-giving fountains. The mountain scenery in the immediate vicinity, grand and inspiring as it is, is not more interesting and attractive than the primitive Spanish civilization which has held its sway in all that country for three hundred years, or, more curious still, the ruined cities and strange traditions that tell the tourist of a civilization that was old when the Spaniards came. New Mexico is "The Old Curiosity Shop" of America, and some of her most quaint and curious portions are easily accessible to the visitor at the Springs. Santa Fe, the oldest city in the United States,—and Santa Fe, just as it used to be hundreds of years ago—is only half a days ride by rail from the Springs. The finest hunting grounds in America, where antelope, black-tailed deer, bear, and smaller game abound, may be found by short excursions from the hotels in almost any direction, while the fisherman may bait his hook on the edges of numerous trout pools in the immediate vicinity of the Springs.

The Las Vegas Hot Springs are the property of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Company, and it is upon such a basis as is briefly described above that the managers of the great road have built one of the most attractive health and pleasure resorts in the United States. Two fine hotels and numerous cottages have been erected; a bath house, under the control of an experienced manager; gas works and water works are provided; and everything that the architect, the engineer and landscape gardener can do, to make more lovely this spot, made so beautiful by nature, is being done.

THE MONTEZUMA,

The new hotel opened April 17, 1882, is under the immediate management of Mr. C. D. Frost, late manager of the Lindell Hotel, St. Louis. This elegant house is furnished in the latest style and has every modern convenience. A branch railway from Las Vegas to the Springs, a distance of six miles, conveys visitors almost to the very doors of the hotels. Seventy miles of romantic Alpine roads are being constructed to every point of interest in the adjacent mountains.

The bath house is 200 feet in length, two stories high, and is built of cut stone, on the opposite side of the river from the hotels and plaza; it is connected by a rustic bridge, which crosses the river high above the rocky bed of the mountain torrent below. The bath house has a capacity of bathing 500 people per day, giving every variety of bath,—medicated, electric, vapor, shampoo, douche, ring baths, tub, spray and shower. Special apartments for the treatment of contagious diseases have been provided, and a plentiful supply of roller inclined invalid chairs for the use of the sick and paralytic.

The baths are of special value in the treatment of all blood poisons, rheumatism and kindred ills, paralysis, spinal diseases, nervous affections, dyspepsia, Brights disease, etc., while the climate is a paradise for consumptives and persons suffering from catarrh or hay fever.

The Las Vegas Hot Springs is admirably located as a half-way stopping place for trans-continental travelers. Stop-over privileges are granted on first-class tickets. For further information, address

HOW TO GO EAST.

THE NEW AND POPULAR ROUTE

IS VIA THE

ATCHISON, TOPEKA & SANTA FE,

AND

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROADS,

This line carries the traveler from San Francisco through Southern California and the city of Los Angeles; through the valley of the Rio Gila in Arizona; along the banks of the Rio Grande and through the cities of Socorro, Albuquerque, Santa Fe and Las Vegas, in New Mexico, across a picturesque corner of Colorado, and over the broad prairies of fertile Kansas—just now rejoicing in the distinction of being the prize agricultural State of America.

At Kansas City or Atchison, connection is made with a dozen great trunk lines, for all points north, east or south.

The time and cost are practically the same as by other lines, but in nearly everything calculated to interest the traveler and make the journey an enjoyable one the Southern Route is vastly superior to the old beaten track across Nevada.

THE EQUIPMENT

Of the ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE is not surpassed by that of any of the great routes of travel and traffic in the United States.

A smooth track, rock ballast, steel rails, elegant coaches, Pullman palace sleeping cars—these are only a few of the main features. An examination as to details will show that the ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE is provided with every approved device tending to secure the comfort and safety of passengers, and enjoys a record for freedom from accidents of which any road might be proud.

Among the items of equipment peculiar to the ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE, are the Emigrant Sleeping Cars, for which there is no extra charge. These cars are similar in construction to the first-class sleepers, except that they are not upholstered. By furnishing their own blankets emigrants may make themselves as comfortable in these cars as in first-class sleepers.

The Eating Houses of the ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE are all under the supervision of one man—a caterer of long experience—and nothing is left undone in this respect to make travel a pleasure to the traveler.

TWELVE HOURS SHORTER.

That is the time you will save by taking the ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE when traveling from any point in Central and Southern Colorado to Kansas City and the East. Take Leadville. as an example, for a starting point. The best time made to Kansas City, by way of Denver, is forty-six hours and thirty-five minutes. The best time made between Leadville and Kansas City, via Pueblo and the Santa Fe route, is thirty-six hours. Taking all the regular passenger trains that leave Leadville for the East, during twenty-four hours, and the advantage in time gained by the ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE to the Missouri River is from eleven hours to thirteen and a half hours.

For maps, rates, time tables, full description of the route, and any other information you may desire, address

Tombstone.

COCHISE COUNTY.

County-seat and incorporated city, about thirty miles south of the S. P. R. R., with a branch track which takes one from Benson to within ten miles of the town. It is situated at the foot of a very low range of rolling hills, on a nearly level table-land. To the northward, for many miles, the country is a rocky plain, deeply cut into the numerous gullies and shallow ravines. Like most other places in Arizona, Tombstone is surrounded by irregular and broken ranges of mountains, making a mountain fence, consisting of the Santa Catarinas, Whetstone, Mustang, Huachuca, Mule and Dragoon Mountains. In the latter range, twelve miles distant, and in plain sight, is one of the noted Apache dens—"Cochise Stronghold."

It is one of the liveliest of the Pacific slope towns, and has a population of about 8,000. It is well laid out with broad streets, and for a mountain town is well built. Its climate is heathful, although the days are warm in summer, but the nights cool and pleasant. The population is the most peaceable and hospitable that ever a stranger met with; and it is seldom that any crimes are committed in this place, rumors to the contrary notwithstanding. Hotels, lodgings, and restaurants, are in abundance, which compare favorably with the progress of the place. Most any luxury may be indulged in that can be found in San Francisco. The most prominent mines are about nine miles east of the San Pedro River, in the low range of hills sometimes called Tombstone Mountains. There are six mills on the San Pedro, with 125 stamps, and the Girard Mill in Tombstone of twenty stamps, besides a five-stamp mill at Watervale, about three miles from town, making in all about 150 now in operation in this district. Several of these mines on the San Pedro have already produced such a large amount of silver ore as to give this district the lead of all others, and to form an era in the silver production and material progress of the whole territory.

Prices are not so very high, although the city is 5,000 feet above sea level.

There are four churches—Catholic, Methodist, Presbyterian and Episcopalian, and several good schools.

In summer the mercury is quite active and crawls up to 90° and 110°.

There are three water companies which supply the city with water. They get their supply from springs three to twenty-six miles distant. The water is clear, sparkling and sweet, but is very hard. The price to families is about three-fourths cents per gallon. The mines are in the town, or within three-fourths of a mile of it. Many of them are very good, and will doubtless last for several years.

Tucson.

PIMA COUNTY,

Is on the line of the Southern Pacific Railroad, 978 miles from San Francisco. It is one of the oldest places in the Territory, has a population of 10,000, and is the county seat of Pima County. The place supports several extensive commercial establishments, whose trade reaches far into some of the Mexican provinces. Mining and stock-raising are the interests which support it, and the country that surrounds it is said to be capable of sustaining a much greater population than is at present found there.

The beautiful valley of Santa Cruz, in which it is located, was settled as long ago as 1560, making Tucson the next oldest town in the United States, Santa Fé, New Mexico, having been built five years before A few miles below Tucson, there seems to be the ruins of an old town, but no information can be obtained as to its history or circumstances of its destruction. It is thought by some that Tucson was once a Spanish military station, for the purpose of protecting the Mission of San Xavier Del Bac, a short distance to the south.

The land near Tucson is very rich. The town has been infested by from one to two thousand Indians, and attempts have been made to take it, but without success. The first American store was started in 1856, by a Mr. Solomon Warner, from Fort Yuma, with a store of merchandise, carried on thirteen pack-animals.

In 1866, ten years later, several mercantile firms began business, when the town took a new start, substituting good buildings for the old, and almost decayed hovels. In 1871, by the continued efforts of Governor Safford, an elegant, airy roomed and nicely furnished school-house was built. During the same year, the "Sisters of St. Joseph" began a girls' school.

Yuma,

YUMA COUNTY.

Situated on the Colorado River, where the Southern Pacific Railroad bridge is located, 247 miles west of Tucson, 250 miles west of Prescott, and 731 miles southeast of San Francisco. It is an important river trading point and transfer depot. It is the county seat, and its population is now 1,500. Opposite the town, on the California side of the river, is Fort Yuma, garrisoned by several companies of troops. The place including across the river, was first called Colorado City, then Arizona City, and afterwards by its present name. It is nicely located, and is surrounded by a fertile grazing and agricultural district.

As a home for consumptives, persons troubled with lung and other complaints, Yuma is destined to become the resort par excellence of the Pacific Coast.

In 1870 the county seat was removed to this place from La Paz. The Territorial prison, located at this place, was begun in 1877. In May of the same year, the Southern Pacific Railroad reached the California bank of the Colorado, and late in the fall the bridge was completed across the river. The draw, a Howe Truss, is provided with improved machinery, by which it can be opened and closed in three minutes by one man. Yuma is 126 feet above the sea level, and 178 miles from the mouth of the Colorado. The river is about 500 feet wide at this place. Yuma as a sanitarium attracts some attraction. For bronchial, lung, and kidney diseases the climate is unsurpassed. Sun-baths can be obtained with ease. The nights are delicious, and the steady unbroken therometrical range of fall and winter make it almost unapproachable.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC HOTEL.

This fine, commodious building, was erected by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, and opened in May, 1881. Previous to that time there was no suitable hotel containing accommodation enough for the traveling public. It is first-class in every respect; large, airy rooms, furnished throughout in a style superior to any other house in this Territory, and fitted up with all modern conveniences. Travelers who have crossed the hot, scorching desert of the Colorado, are agreeably surprised to find an oasis like this—a place too remote, as it may seem, to be containing all the luxuries as well as the necessaries of life.

NEW MEXICO.

ALPHABETICALLY.

On March 2, 1867, that portion of New Mexico north of the 37th parallel of latitude was by an act of Congress attached to Colorado, leaving the New Mexico of to-day with the following boundaries: north by the 37th parallel; east by the 103d meridian; south by the 32d parallel, except a few square miles lying to the sou h of the latter on the southwest; and on the west by the 109th meridian. The Territory thus having an average breadth of 335 miles; length of eastern boundary 345 miles, and length on western boundary 390 miles; the whole covering an area of 121,201 square miles. By geographical divisions it is bounded on the north by the State of Colorado, on the east by the public domain and the State of Texas and the Republic of Mexico, and on the west by the Territory of Arizona. The Territory is divided into twelve counties as follows: Colfax, Taos, Rio Arriba, San Miguel, Santa Fé, Bernalillo, Valencia, Socorro, Lincoln, Doña Aña and Grant Counties.

The chief towns are: Santa Fé, the capital of the Territory and military headquarters; Las Vegas, county seat of San Miguel; Albuquerque, of Bernalillo; Cimarron of Colfax; Mora, of Mora County; Taos, of Taos County; Tierra Amarilla of Rio Arriba; Las Lunas, of Valencia; Socorro, of Socorro County; Mesilla, of Doña Aña; Lincoln, of Lincoln; and Silver City, of Grant County. These towns are all important business points, and all, with the exception of Lincoln, are on or near railroads. They vary in population from 400 in Lincoln to 7,000 in the capital city. The population of the Territory with the recent increase is about 125,000, seven-eighths of which is to the manor born. In addition, there are about 8,000 Pueblo Indians, who have been decided by the territorial courts to be citizens; besides as many more of nomadic Indians, counting Navajos, Apaches and Utes, that may be distinctly classed as belonging to New Mexico.

The story of Cabeca de Vaca—of how he journeyed by land and water from the year 1528 to 1536 to this locality from Florida, reciting an account of hardships and hairbreadth escapes of the journey, and of the hospitality (sometimes illy requited) of the village Indians, would seem to point to the advent of the Spaniards in what is now known as New Mexico. Coronado's expedition, in 1840, only resulted in the introduction of sheep, for through the excesses of his men, Coronado was obliged to return to the gulf without financial success, and in disgrace. The next expeditions were those of Espejo, by the Rio Grande Valley, forty years later. His visits were strongly opposed by Indians, however, and only resulted in his gaining much valuable information. The first immigration that resulted in a permanent settlement was under Oñate, in 1597, in Rio Arriba County. The following year a settlement was made at Santa Fé. From this time forward there seems to have been a considerable Spanish population in the Territory. In 1680 we learn the Spaniards were driven out of Santa Fé and the Territory by Pueblo Indians. It was then that the churches, convents, and all the belongings of the Europeans were destroyed by the exasperated natives, many of the former being overtaken and killed. At that time (1680) it appeared as though all traces of the whites would be effaced, but they gradually regained their foothold, and in 1799 the population, as officially stated, was 23,769 Spaniards, and 10,369 Mission Indians. The first merchandise was brought to New Mexico across the plains, in 1804, from Illinois.

In 1821 came Mexican independence, and in 1822 came to New Mexico a government under the republic, with Francis Xavier Chaves as political chief. The overland trade with the United States virtually dates from the same year.

November 29, 1835, is memorable from being the date of publication of the first newspaper west of St. Louis. It was named El Crepuscuca (The Dawn). 1837 brought us to the thrilling scenes of the revolution, that resulted in the assassination of Governor Peraz. 1842 dates the Texas invasion, and August 18, 1846, the American occupation of New Mexico, by General Stephen W. Kearney.

THE RESOURCES OF NEW MEXICO.

There are three interests in New Mexico worthy consideration; the mineral, the grazing, or pastoral, and the agricultural; and they may be said to constitute the resources of the Territory, as manufacturing is confined almost exclusively to jewelry, of which very exquisite work in filigree is produced in Santa Fé, mostly from gold and silver native to the Territory.

AGRICULTURE.

Agriculture in New Mexico is yet in its primitive condition. The wooden plow of the Mexican fathers holds preference with the majority of farmers. Development is barely sufficient to serve anticipation. Corn, wheat, oats, barley, and the table vegetables generally are raised with a view to the home market, which is quite limited. Corn is produced best in the valleys along the banks of streams. I have seen wheat and oat-fields 6,000 and 7,000 feet above the sea level as rich as any in Illinois and Minnesota. It is not possible to state even approximately the area of such productions. All irrigable lands, wherever they may be in the Territory, belong to the productive or farming class. The depth of the soil is something wonderful. With rains as in the Mississippi Valley, the results of intelligent labor would astonish the world; as it is, no one thinks of land for cultivation except it be irrigable. In this sense water is king.

THE MINERALS OF NEW MEXICO.

New Mexico will come quite up with her neighbors in the yield of precious metals. A variety of causes have heretofore contributed to prevent her thorough exploration for such wealth. Both Mexicans and Indians are indifferent to discoveries in this line; in fact, the latter yet make it a capital offense to show a prospector anything of the kind. A Pueblo might be induced to part with his eye-teeth; no inducement could prevail upon him to take a white man to a mine; and in the hands of these people the golden keys have been held in tight grips ever since the expulsion of the Spaniards. Hence the ignorance prevalent with respect to the mineral riches of the Territory, and the heretofore utter failure of attempts at their development. It is absurd to say that an arbitrary geographical line marks a silver or a gold limit. With productive mining districts on the south, west and north, and with geological formations identically the same, the best of the scientists will be hard put to, to give a reason why New Mexico is barren, and Chihuahua, Arizona and Colorado are rich beyond computation in gold, silver, copper, and galena. There are more traces and signs of ancient mining in New Mexico than in either Colorado or Arizona.

Already enough is known to warrant assertion that the Territory is well stored with gold, silver, iron, copper, lead, zinc, mica, gypsum, coal, marble, precious stones, and stone of every variety for building.

SPRINGS, MINERAL AND HOT.

Few parts of the world are as bounteously supplied with healing water as New Mexico. They are found by Fernandez, in Taos County; at Los Vegas, San Miguel County; at Ojo Caliente, in Rio Arriba County; near Jemes, in Bernalillo County; near Fort McRae, Socorro County; Fort Selden, Doña Aña County; and at Mimbres, in Grant County. Those at Jemes are probably unexcelled in the world. At Las Vegas elaborate preparations are in progress for the care and entertainment of guests and invalids. Any and all of these springs are equal in curative qualities, if not superior, to those in Arkansas. They have certainly the attraction of an unsurpassed climate.

RAILROADS.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé Railroad, entering the Territory through the Raton Mountains, just south of Trinidad, Colorado, has traversed the Territory in a southwesterly direction, and is completed to our southern boundary, its course lying along the Rio Grande. It has formed a junction with the Southern Pacific at Deming, whence it is rapidly pushing forward to meet its own southwestern extension building north from Guaymas, Mexico. Another branch proceeds down the Rio Grande from Rincon, through Las Cruces to El Paso, thence to extend direct to the City of Mexico.

ALPHABETICALLY.

The Denver & Rio Grande (narrow gauge) has entered the Territory south of Alamosa, Colorado, and is now completed to San Juan, twenty-five miles north of Santa Fé. Its projected course is down the Rio Grande, with a branch to Santa Fé. A branch also extends to the westward almost on the line between New Mexico and Colorado, to the "San Juan country" of the northwest.

The Texas, Santa Fé & Northern Railroad is soon to connect Santa Fé with the Denver & Rio Grande, and is expected also to run down the rich valley of the Pecos. The Atlantic & Pacific road is rapidly building west from near Albuquerque, on the Rio Grande, forming a junction there with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé Railroad. It is already completed to near the Arizona line.

The Southern Pacific has entered our borders in the southwest from Arizona, and is completed to El Paso. Other projects are in contemplation, and soon New Mexico will have a network of railways that will eclipse those of many of the States.

Albuquerque,

BERNALILLO COUNTY.

(See, also, New Albuquerque.)

Situated two miles from the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad and eighty-five miles from Santa Fé, and with the new town, established since the opening of the road, having a population of 5,000 inhabitants. The county seat of Bernalillo county is at Benello, twenty miles distant; but it will shortly be removed to this place for greater convenience. District Court is already held at Albuquerque by order of the district judge. "Old Town" presents the quaint appearance of the typical Mexican pueblo, but its business community is energetic and prosperous. It possesses a newspaper and a good hotel.

Las Vegas,

SAN MIGUEL COUNTY.

Situated on the river Gallinas, and touched by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad; 770 miles from Kansas City and eighty-three miles from Santa Fé. County seat. Altitude, 6,452 feet. Site of railroad repair shops and several manufacturing enterprises. The Plaza Hotel, in the old town, is a handsome three-story structure, erected by an association of the merchants, at a total cost (including furnishing) of $70,000. Mrs. S. B. Davis, formerly of the Exchange Hotel, Santa Fé, has leased the establishment. It will be conducted in a manner second to none in the Territory. Las Vegas depends for its support upon the mining, wool and lumber interests, and its rapid growth and increasing business point to it as the most progressive town in this region. The old town is a mile from the depot, the new town, East Las Vegas having sprung up since the railroad was opened. There is a street railway connecting the two towns, and numerous buildings in the intervening space, making them virtually one town. The city, also, possesses a gas-works and water-works, two daily newspapers, two national banks, and several commodious hotels. Well water and river water are both used here. The Gallinas River is a clear mountain stream, with a pebbly bottom, coursing through the heart of the city. The population is at present estimated at 7,500, and increasing daily. Building is very brisk. The Las Vegas Hot Springs, situated a few miles from town, are a favorite resort for invalids and pleasure seekers. A magnificent hotel has been erected and bathing facilities added. Messrs. Mills & Hadley, of the Mining World, cheerfully accord to strangers, by mail or otherwise, information about the mines of the vicinity.

eighty-five miles from Santa Fé. Population, including old and new towns, 5,000. The junction of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad with the Atchison, Topeka, is made a few miles south of here, and New Albuquerque promises to become the great railroad center of the Territory. Besides the railroad interests, the town has for its support the extensive mining, wool-growing, fruit-raising and agricultural industries of the neighborhood. Its church and school facilities are of the first order, and it possesses several good newspapers. Bernalillo County is the largest in the Territory, and many of the most valuable mines are within its confines. Gold, silver, copper, lead, iron, coal and lime are found in large quantities, besides granite and sandstone. The rapid growth of Albuquerque may be considered assured.

the spring of 1882. At these works all the new and repair work will be done for the line south and west of La Junta, and for the Mexican extension. The immense coal products of the Raton Mines, as well as her excellent water facilities, are favorable for large manufacturing operations. It is expected that nearly 1,000 men will be employed by the company at this point. The water supply is brought six miles in pipes from a mountain stream, and lodged in a reservoir of 2,500,000 gallons capacity. All trains stop at Raton twenty-five minutes for meals—train bound west for breakfast, and bound east for supper, which are served in excellent style at Fred. Harvey's Depot Hotel.

INSTRUCTION FOR LADIES.

Ladies are admitted into all the departments of the College on the same terms and conditions as young men. Their progress in all branches thus far has been most flattering.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Pupils can enter the College at any time, and pursue their studies to graduation, without interruption, if they see fit to do so. Pupils not sufficiently advanced for the Business Course can enter for instruction in the English Department.

Modern Languages and Drawing are optional studies, and may be taken or not, as the student may see fit, but no extra charge will be made for them when pursued.

The dicipline of the school is very careful, in order to impart such habits as shall conduce to the future success of graduates.

Visitors will be always welcome at the College, as we are pleased to have the public inform itself of the merits of our school.

Santa Fe,

SANTA FE COUNTY.

Territorial Capital and its recognized political and educational center; also military headquarters, having two and one-half regiments of infantry, one regiment of cavalry, and three companies of Indian scouts constantly quartered there. The "City of the Holy Faith" stands on both sides of the Santa Fé Creek, and is built almost entirely of adobe, or sun-dried brick, one story high, and covered with dirt. As the walls are thick, they are consequently warm in winter and cool in summer. The altitude is 6,862 feet. Population, about 6,500, of which 5,500 are of Spanish and Mexican descent. The first Spaniards came here in 1582, and found an Indian village bearing the marks of time already established, so that Santa Fé may with justice claim to be the oldest city in the United States. In 1680 the Pueblo Indians secretly conspired to overcome the whites and drive them from the country. Santa Fé contained at that time about 1,000 inhabitants, citizens and soldiery. After a siege of ten days, during which the Spaniards lost nearly 500 killed and disabled, they resolved to abandon the place. After suffering incredible hardships, the miserable remnant at last reached El Paso, Mexico. The Indians remained in undisturbed possession for the next twelve years, when the Spaniards again returned, under De Vargas Ponce De Leon, and after a desperate battle, with heavy losses on both sides, the Indians were again compelled to submission. The Spaniards took possession on an eminence overlooking the city, supposed to be the same site as old Fort Marcy, where they remained until the following year, when they decided to remove into the city. This was opposed by the Indians, and another battle followed, resulting in the discomfiture of the Pueblos with a loss of 175 killed. Seventy principal warriors and chiefs captured were immediately condemned and shot by order of De Vargas. On the eighteenth of September, 1846, during the war with Mexico, Santa Fé was captured by the United States military forces under General Kearney, though without any fighting in or about the city. During the late civil war Santa Fé was captured by the Confederates, under Gen. H. H. Sibley, in 1862, who remained in possession about a month. Santa Fé has hardly been altered, with all the change in its fortunes, during the past century. There is yet scarcely a frame building in the city, and with the distinction of being the oldest civilized city in the United States she can couple the singularity of being the only town in the country of 5,000 inhabitants which does not possess a single steam engine of any description. Both her architecture and her methods of work are simple and primitive. It is mainly derived from the Indians, and the aboriginal customs have dominated over foreign influence, which the modified but not changed Indian practices.

THE CHAPELS OF SAN MIGUEL AND SANTA GUADALOUPE.

These historical old buildings were erected by the Franciscan Fathers, who accompanied the Spaniards into the country as missionaries—the first shortly after 1582, the second about forty-five years later. In 1680 the Indians rebelled against the Spaniards and drove them from the country. They at once burned down the chapels and other public buildings and residences, collected the church saints on the plaza and burned them, forbid the use of a word of the Spanish language, bathed themselves to wash away the baptism of the Catholic priests, and allowed those who had been married by them to put aside their wives and take others. They utterly destroyed every thing even suggestive of the Spaniards. Twelve years later the Spaniards returned and again reduced the Indians to submission, men were sent to the forest, and the churches were soon rebuilt. On one of the beams of the church of San Miguel appears an inscription in Spanish, of which the following is a translation: "The Marquis de La Penuela erected this building by the Royal Ensign, Don Augustin Flores Vergara, his servant, A. D. 1710."

The Governor's Palace, north side of the plaza, built about A. D., 1582, of material from the old Indian town. This interesting old building, on account of the repairs repeatedly made upon it, is fast losing its antique appearance and internal arrangement. In it lived and ruled the Spanish Captain General, so remote and inaccessible from the Viceroyalty at Mexico, that he was in effect a king, nominally accountable to the Viceroy, but practicably beyond his reach and control, and wholly irresponsible directly to the people. Here have been planned all the domestic wars and measures for defense against foreign invasion. It has been for 300 years the Government House, with all its branches annexed, and is so still. It now contains the Governor's mansion, the United States Designated Depository, the United States Territorial Court Rooms, the Legislative Hall, Territorial Library and Territorial Attorney-General's Office.

The plaza, or public square, contains an area of about two and one-half acres, filled with beautiful shade-trees, mainly cottonwood. Surrounding the plaza on the east, south and west sides are the principal mercantile and business houses of the city, whose rich argosies of merchandise, freighted from the Mississippi, have in times past given to the "Ship of the Plains," and the "Santa Fé Trail," a world-wide notoriety. The incoming of the American element is making its mark in numerous worthy enterprises, principal among which is the New Palace Hotel. This is a magnificent three-story building, under the personal direction of Messrs. P. Rumsey & Son. It was erected and furnished at an enormous cost, by a company of stockholders composed of residents of Santa Fé. The hotel possesses all the modern improvements, and is by far the finest in the Territory. The manner in which the house is conducted is in strict accordance with its surroundings. An important industry of the town is S. H. Lucas & Co.'s Mexican Filigree Factory, employing a number of artisans and a large capital. It was established in 1874. Mexican filigree work is an old Italian art adopted by the Spaniards, and is the most beautiful jewelry manufactured. It is made into all quaint and unique designs for ladies' ornaments, of pure, fine-drawn gold and silver wire. A handsome little pamphlet and price-list of the work may be had on application to Lucas & Co. The Transfer Company, Shelby, Swope & Co., run omnibuses between the railroad depot and all parts of the city. Their 'buses attend all trains.

Socorro,

SOCORRO COUNTY.

County seat; situated 977 miles southwest of Kansas City, and 160 miles from Santa Fé. Elevation 4,665 feet. Population nearly 3,000. Proposed site for the junction of the New Mexican Central and Southern Railway with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé. Socorro is a good business town, being the supply depot and shipping point for a large scope of stock and mining country. The town has a first-class hotel, kept by George F. Brown. It is situated facing the plaza, with beautiful shade-trees, making a pleasant resort on warm summer days. Stages leave the house for White Oaks, Magdalena and the Black Range.

ALPHABETICALLY.

El Paso,

EL PASO COUNTY.

Situated on the Rio Grande River, immediately opposite the old Mexican town of El Paso del Norte, and fifteen miles from Ysleta, the county seat. El Paso del Norte is a large town, extending twenty-one miles along the river bank, and affords considerable trade for its American neighbors. El Paso enjoys railroad connections north, south (through Mexico), east and west, being the most promising center west of Kansas City. It is also the Customs headquarters for the trade between Mexico and the United States. Its present population is estimated at 3,500, and rapidly increasing. Building is brisk and the price of town lots is advancing at an astonishing rate, and indeed the enhancement would seem to be warranted by the lively demand. The population is decidedly cosmopolitan, and some of its make-up is crude; but law and order has been preserved of late by the authorities in such a manner as to command the emulation of some of the neighboring towns of New Mexico and Arizona. El Paso is as quiet, except as regards the bustle of trade, as any town in the West. The town possesses a bank—the State National—and four newspapers—The Lone Star, formerly called Thirty-four, The Daily Independent, about to be enlarged and contain daily dispatches, the Herald and the Times. The newspaper men complain of a dearth of local items since the installations of the present peace officers. With all its advantages, El Paso has a brilliant future to look forward to.

SOUTHERN COLORADO.

ALPHABETICALLY.

The Centennial State, born when the commemoration of our one hundredth anniversary was in progress, has the form of an exact parallelogram, lying between the 37th and 41st parallel of north latitude and 102d and 109th degree west longitude. The admission of the Centennial State into the sisterhood of States, in 1877, was attended with no little eclat, and her rapid development since that event has elicited the loudest expressions of surprise from the whole world.

It is bounded on the north by Wyoming and Nebraska, on the east by Kansas, on the south by New Mexico and on the west by Utah. It is 380 miles in length by 280 miles in breadth, having an area of 106,400 square miles, or 68,096,000 acres. Its natural divisions are the plains, the foot-hills, and the mountain country. It has been estimated that the plains occupy one-third of the whole area, which, with a perfect system of irrigation, must become the source of great agricultural wealth, an industry that is as yet but in its incipiency. Experiments in the cultivation of cereals and vegetables have resulted most satisfactorily, though the location of farming lands has not heretofore been the object of the immigration which has found its way to this favored land. With the increase in population, however, a greater interest seems to center in that particular pursuit which calls the mower and the plow into use, and the future is very near, we dare say, when the agricultural products of the State will command a very high respect in her commercial attractions. The soil is inexhaustable, yielding abundantly, with proper cultivation, everything indigenous to the latitude.

As a grazing and dairy country it is claimed that Colorado has scarcely an equal, since at no season of the year is there a time when nutritious grasses of many varieties cannot be obtained by the cattle which roam at large, requiring no shelter save that furnished in the valleys. These facts are alone sufficient to proclaim to the world that her agricultural capabilities are very great, and that no risk other than that made in all new countries is necessary in order that success may be attained. In the possession of the famous Rocky Mountains, which intersect the State from north to south, Colorado is eminently fortunate, not only because of their illimitable deposits of precious ores, but because they are probably richer in scenic attractions than any other range of mountains in the world. Such a variety of sublime and picturesque scenery as is presented in every section of this noble range, it is universally conceded, is nowhere rivaled, not even in the renowned Alps of Switzerland. A visit to the Garden of the Gods, Estes Park, or Clear Creek Cañon, is attended with most pleasing results invariably, for in each of these places nature has exerted herself to the utmost in her most exquisite handiwork.

The following description of Colorado from a published history of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, with whose growth that of the State is so closely identified, presents the topography of this wonderful region consecutively, and just as it strikes the visitor:

THE DENVER AND RIO GRANDE RAILWAY

Was commenced in 1870, a few months only after the Kansas Pacific Railway had crossed the plains and reached the foot of the Rocky Mountains at Denver. The object of its projectors was to construct a railway along the eastern base of the backbone of the continent, and then to pierce the mountains by branches to reach the mining districts whenever and wherever they proved to be sufficiently productive. With this definite purpose in view a three-foot gauge was chosen, which ten years' experience has proved to be eminently adapted to meet the requirements of the country. The mountain-base line was gradually constructed due south from Denver to El Moro, 206 miles. The first mining branch was that to the coal fields near Cañon City, which preceded by one year the completion of the road to the coal fields at El Moro. Then followed the extension over Veta Pass, heading toward the silver mines of the San Juan country. Next came the extension to Leadville, which was delayed for a year by a bitter legal contest with a rival road for possession of the Grand Cañon of the Arkansas.

No sooner was Leadville reached than the extraordinary mining activity developed throughout the mountains of Colorado, which has placed this State foremost in the production of precious metals, justified the unprecedented feat of carrying on the construction of no less than seven extensions at once. In the effort to reach the spots where nature hides her treasures the greatest engineering difficulties yet encountered on this continent have been overcome, the deepest gorges have been traversed, the loftiest ranges have been climbed. In five different places the summit of the Continental Divide has been crossed, and the "Pioneer Line" on these extensions is following the course of streams whose waters lead to the Pacific.

By way of introduction we will briefly enumerate the characteristic features of interest to the traveler on the different divisions of this railway, which is justly termed "The Scenic Line of America." It skirts along the western edge of the Great Plains, the vast and sublime treeless expanse that hardly a score of years since was known as the Great American Desert, for over 200 miles, at just the proper distance to show in all their majesty and sublimity two of the loftiest snow-clad ranges of the Rocky Mountain system. From Denver to La Veta, a distance of 191 miles, the panorama of mountain and plain seen from its cars has no equal, as regards extent of vision, on the North American Continent. To the traveler from the eastern sections of the Union it seems to open a new heaven and a new earth. Accustomed to the limited horizon of the East, with wonder and delight he finds his vision ranging over spaces vaster than he had ever dreamed could be compassed by human sight. From beholding mountains 100 miles to the north, he turns to see other mountains 100 miles to the south. To the east the plains, solitary and untrammeled as the ocean, rise up to meet the sky. Lying in depressions of the plains, like parts of a mosaic, are rapid mountain streams, along whose narrow, fertile valleys are beautiful cities, neat villages and attractive farms, over whose surfaces flow the tiny crystal rills from the irrigating ditches, without which even the hardiest shrubs would wither and die. Vision is assisted by the wonderful transparency of the atmosphere, and objects many miles distant appear near at hand, while even the furthest mountain peaks lie clear-cut and distinct against the sky.

Bayard Taylor has said that nowhere along the entire extent of the Alps is there a point from which they can be seen to so good advantage as the Rocky Mountains are beheld from Denver. Hence there could be no more fitting starting-point for what is essentially a Rocky Mountain Railroad.

But to return to the railway. Fifty-two miles southward from Denver the summit of the watershed which separates the valleys of the Arkansas and the Platte is crossed. Here is a lakelet, the shore of which the train skirts for half a mile. Then it glides down the Valley of the Monument, and twenty-three miles further arrives at Colorado Springs, from which point a branch line, five miles long, leads to Manitou.

Forty-five miles southward we come to Pueblo, where the chief objects of interest are the Pueblo Smelting and Refining Works, and the iron furnace and steel works of the Colorado Coal and Iron Company.

Delightful as the scenery is from Denver to Pueblo, it is merely an introduction to the greater wonders that are unfolded when the railway penetrates into the fastnesses of the mountains, and lays bare the very "heart of the Rockies." Half a score of branches, varying in length from 500 to 300 miles, penetrate the famous mining regions of Colorado, in most of which they are the pioneer and only rail line—the enthusiastically welcomed herald of civilization, trade and progress. Of the 800 miles of road now operated, in fact of the entire 1,200 that will be completed before the end of the current year, it can safely be said that there is scarcely a mile of tame scenery. Everywhere the attention is held by the shifting phases of the mountain view, near or distant, the beauty of the extensive parks, or the picturesque grandeur of the cañons and mountain passes. The scenery changes with every mile.

Diverging from Pueblo, 120 miles south of Denver, the railway enters the mountains by three avenues—through the majestic gateways of Veta Pass, Grape Creek Cañon and the Grand Cañon of the Arkansas. One mile above Cañon City it dives into a cleft in the granite rock, and—passing through an awful gorge three thousand feet in depth—emerges above it into the upper Arkansas Valley, where the constant succession of beautiful and varied scenery, mountains and cañons, parks and pleasant valleys, are a constant wonder and delight as the train skirts the roaring torrent of the Arkansas, which dashes headlong eastward towards the plains.

One mile above Cañon City, and just at the entrance of the Grand Cañon, the Wet Mountain Valley branch leaves the main line, and following up Grand Creek in a southwest direction for thirty-two miles, through a cañon of wonderful beauty, terminates at Westcliff, from which point the mines of Silver Cliff, Rosita, and Bassick, numerous stamp mills in the vicinity, and a large agricultural population are supplied. The agricultural importance of the Wet Mountain Valley, and its scenic beauty will be found fully described in their proper place.

Returning to Pueblo we now follow the railway southward and westward. From Pueblo to Cuchara, a distance of fifty miles, the line has few attractions beyond the ever-varying features of the Spanish Peaks viewed from the cars as the train describes a tortuous course across the drainage of the country. At Cuchara the line branches. The El Moro Division makes straight for Fisher's Peak, the most prominent headland of the Raton Mountains, but fails to arrive at its destination, for five miles beyond El Moro it runs to ground in the enormous coal veins which flank the mountain. At El Moro the entire coke supply of Colorado is manufactured. Over 26,000 tons of coke were shipped from this point during 1880, and supplied sixty-one out of the sixty-eight furnaces in the State. A very striking view is to be seen nightly from El Moro. It is a semi-circle of two hundred coke ovens all aglow, backed by the dark, basaltic columns of the Raton range.

The line from Cuchara westward ascends the fertile and picturesque Cuchara Valley for twenty-two miles, and then climbs up Veta Pass, rising by short curves and steep grades into the very realms of cloud-land, nearly two miles above sea-level, affording magnificent and far-reaching views of the Spanish Peaks, Veta Mountain and the romantic valley between. Thence the railway traverses the great inland basin of the San Luis Valley, striking the Rio Grande 250 miles from Denver and 130 from Pueblo, at Alamosa. From Alamosa the line runs almost due south twenty-nine miles, leaving the river ten miles to the eastward, to the Mexican settlement of Antonito, where it again forks.

From this point the traveler may be prepared for entering a new world—whether he goes South, to find himself among the still living remains of Montezuma on the tributaries of the Rio Grande, or hastening along the edge of the stupendous Toltic Gorge, over the dizzy heights of the Chama summit, on through the dense forests of the Tierra Amarilla, reaches the great San Juan country, a land so entirely unlike, in verdure, in climate and in scenery, anything to which he is accustomed in the Rocky Mountains north and east, that he can scarcely believe himself still in Colorado.

Born of the new era—the railroad era to the San Juan country—is the now famous town of Durango, already the metropolis of southwestern Colorado.

The New Mexico Division extends from Antonito, ninety miles south, to Espanola, New Mexico, twenty-three miles from Santa Fé, which gap is bridged by an excellent line of six-horse coaches. Climbing the mesas at the foot of San Antonio Mountain, the railway passes over an elevated country, underlaid with volcanic rock, and covered with park-like forests of pinons (pinos edalis), the edible nut-bearing pine of the Rocky Mountains. The cones which contain the seeds mature about once in three years, at which periods all the denizens of the forests, the deer, coneys, bears, squirrels, wild turkeys and prairie dogs grow fat. The nuts are delicious eating, and are frequently sold as an article of commerce. Sixty-four miles south of Antonito, at Barranca Station, is the place of divergence for the celebrated Ojo Caliente hot springs, twelve miles distant by stage.

Just below Barranca the railway makes a rapid descent of some 1,200 feet in seven miles, through the Comanche Cañon, and reaches the banks of the Rio Grande at Embudo. For several miles below this point the large, black basaltic bowlders, which lie in great profusion to the west of the track, are many of them covered with Indian hieroglyphics which can plainly be seen from the car windows.

A short distance from Embudo we enter the populous portions of the Rio Grande Valley, where the banks of the river on both sides are thickly studded with Indian pueblos and Mexican plazas. Twenty miles above Embudo, on an eastern tributary of the Rio Grande, is situated the Pueblo de Taos, the most interesting of all the Indian fortifications, in which the native population still live the primitive life of times long past. Nor is the end of the road, called Espanola, by any means devoid of interest. The fine plaza of Santa Cruz lies directly opposite, on the east side of the Rio Grande, with its rudely ornate church. About a mile immediately below the depot is the Indian pueblo of San Juan.

In the high bluffs opposite the pueblo, as well as many other places in this region, are to be found the remains of cliff dwellings, which have very naturally attracted much interest.

If the health-seeker requires more than pure air and grand scenery, the railway takes him to the famed effervescent soda and iron springs of Manitou, the hot mineral springs of Cañon City, Ojo Caliente, Pagosa, Poncho and Cottonwood, the soda springs of Leadville, and many others less known, but equally valuable.

Throughout the mountains, in close proximity to the railway, there are hundreds of parks, valleys and cañons, in which pleasure-seekers may find secluded camping places, hunt and fish as long as they please, and even, if they wish, so hide themselves that they shall hardly see a human face during the summer. In the vastness of the mountains "the elbow room" that they afford in which to escape for a time from the fierce struggles and intense mental strain of modern civilization, lies their chief attraction to many travelers.

For people from the East who seek health through a change of climate and associations, Colorado offers inducements that are nowhere surpassed. The pure, dry air of the plains and mountains, rarefied by an elevation of from one to two miles above the sea, and often in a high degree electrical, is bracing and exhilarating to the lungs. For asthma it is an almost unfailing specific, as hundreds of persons, confirmed asthmatics before coming here, are here able to breath with comfort, and in the enjoyment of health, will make haste to testify. Those who have weak lungs, or who are in the incipient stages of consumption, seldom fail of relief in this climate, especially if they live out of doors as much as possible, and are not afraid of the sunshine, which is one of the crowning glories of Colorado. During some seasons a cloudy day is almost as rare as an eclipse, and there can be no doubt that cheerfulness and bodily and mental activity are promoted by the absence of dark days, fogs, mists and dampness. If, as Longfellow sings,

"Some days must be dark and dreary,"

In this climate they are reduced to the minimum, and during some years happily missed from the calendar altogether.

While its scenic attractions and advantages of climate will always conspire to make the Denver & Rio Grande Railway popular with tourists and health-seekers, its existence is principally due to facts of another nature. The millions of dollars expended in its construction have been furnished by capitalists for the purpose of opening highways to the rich mineral deposits of Colorado, now the leading bullion-producing State of the Union. The phenomenal rapidity with which it pushes forward half a score or more of extensions at the same time, through tortuous cañons, where frequently the surveyors who locate the line have to be let down over precipices by ropes, and over rugged mountain passes, higher than any railways in the world except some in South America, overcoming obstacles which a few years ago would have been considered insurmountable, has its explanation in the wonderful development of mineral production which has been witnessed in Colorado during the past three years, and the many valuable discoveries that are constantly being made in the districts into which it penetrates. Let us consider the record of three years. In 1878 the entire bullion production of the State, including copper and lead, was about $8,000,000; in 1879 it was $16,000,000; in 1880 it was $24,000,000. No one acquainted with the present condition of the mines estimates the probable bullion product of 1882 at less than $32,000,000, while many place it much higher. Those best informed in regard to the mines assert that mining in Colorado is yet in its infancy, and that there will be abundant opportunity for prospectors for a hundred years and more. There are large areas that have hardly been prospected at all, and others that have been but superficially skimmed over; while even in the oldest districts new lodes are continually being discovered, and forsaken ones developed into paying mines. During the entire history of mining for the precious metals in America, it is doubtful if any section has ever afforded better opportunities for acquiring wealth by legitimate mining operations than are offered by Colorado to-day. The railway takes you at once to the center of the richest mining districts, transports supplies and mining machinery at cheap rates, and in return carries ore and bullion to the different competing markets.

RAILROADS.

It seems incredible, when gazing upon her complete railroad systems, penetrating the most remote corners of the State in every direction, and surmounting gigantic difficulties, that Colorado in 1869 possessed not a single mile of railway in the Territory. Yet such is the fact. When the cost of railroading in this mountainous region is considered, the premium must be awarded to Colorado over every other State in the Union for enterprise and energetic pushing. She now has over 2,000 miles of track at a cost per mile exceeding any railroad in the world—and this in a little over a decade.

THE KANSAS DIVISION UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY.

The inauguration of the enterprise which resulted in the construction of this pioneer line across the boundless prairies of the great States of Kansas and Colorado was the signal of a vast immigration to, and wonderful development of, a section that our proud nation may now look upon with feelings of pride. With that foresight which is a predominant characteristic of all shrewd, energetic business men, the originators of the undertaking took advantage of the earliest opportunity to carry out the plans by which railroad communication could be had with the capital of the Centennial State, and by the encouragement of the Government in donating each alternate section of land on either side of the road they received a stimulus that assured its early completion. In 1864 the first rail was laid at Wyandotte, on the west side of the Missouri River, and ere the close of that year the track was finished to Lawrence, thirty-seven miles distant, and was at that period the only railroad in the State. A very short time elapsed before Lawrence began to doff the garments of infancy and to substitute the dress of maturer years, and from a town of 3,000 inhabitants she sprang to the front rank of the important cities. Topeka also advanced toward the seat of Metropolitan honors with the advent of the railroad, and at the present time has a population of 10,000 souls. With the advance of the railroad civilization kept steady pace, and to its presence the country owes the progress of this vast empire. The lands which skirt the line of the road are of exhaustless fertility, and by proper cultivation are capable of producing everything to perfection that is indiginous to the latitude, a fact that has been demonstrated time and time again.

The country is opened and ready to receive settlers who have a disposition to increase and develop its interests. Lands can be obtained at low figures and on easy terms of the railroad company, while building material in the form of magnesian limestone can be procured in abundance in every quarter. The stone when first taken from the quarry is of the nature of soapstone and can be reduced to any size or shape by the use of edged tools, but after it has been exposed to atmospheric influences a while it undergoes a very great change and becomes extremely hard. It is used very extensively in all the towns in western Kansas. To those seeking cheap homes in a new country, where the soil yields up its richness in a multiplicity of products, where the smiling face of health is perpetually radiant, where labor is rewarded liberally, and where morality is at a high premium, the section that the railway penetrates offers superior inducements. Truly railroads are the vanguard of civilization, of development and permanent growth, and of indispensable necessity. They are the motive power of progress, the elevating influence of improvement, the stimulant of business activity.

THE ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE RAILROAD.

THE NEW AND POPULAR ROUTE THROUGH THE FERTILE VALLEY OF THE ARKANSAS AND THE RICH MINING REGIONS OF COLORADO, NEW MEXICO, ARIZONA, AND SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

A more interesting and delightful trip cannot be found than that now afforded by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé and the Southern Pacific Railroads, stretching across the continent from the Missouri River, at Kansas City and Atchison, to all the principal cities on the coast of California. Passing through Topeka, the beautiful capital city of Kansas, the traveler crosses the fertile fields and grazing lands of that State and enters the mining regions of Colorado through the pivotal City of Pueblo. Or, following the main line from La Junta, the tourist may cross the Raton Mountains by a picturesque pass into the Territory of New Mexico and descend through enchanting mountain scenery, past the famous Hot Springs of Las Vegas to Santa Fé the capital of the Territory and the oldest city on the continent. Thence the route lies southwest through the mining regions of New Mexico and the vineyards and gardens of the valley of the Rio Grande to Deming, where connections are made with the Southern Pacific Railroad for Arizona and all points in California. From Rincon, on the east bank of the Rio Grande, a branch of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé runs to El Paso, where it enters Mexico.

The climate of this wonderful region is as mild and agreeable as that on the shores of the Mediterranean. The fact that mining may be pursued here all the year round without interruption from the snows and storms which make it impossible for half the year in more northern mineral districts, together with the unequaled richness of this section in gold and silver, has brought it into prominence as the most profitable field for mining operations on the continent. Alexander Von Humboldt declared, in 1803: "Here will the wealth of the world be found," and the prospector of 1881 has verified the predictions of the celebrated scientist by proving with pick and shovel that this is the bonanza land of the continent. From the Raton Pass, where the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad enters the Territory of New Mexico, to the point where New Mexico, Arizona and Chihuahua corner, the whole Territory is one vast bed of ores and gems. Gold, silver, copper, and lead abound. Genuine gold ores have been found in the White Oaks District, which assay from $100,000 to $250,000 a ton. The mountains about Santa Fé and Socorro abound in turquoise, agate, carnelian, topaz, jasper, onyx, and other precious gems, some of the finest gems among the crown jewels of Spain having been taken from the turquoise mines in the Cerillos Mountains. In the development of this great treasure house of the globe capital and labor find more profitable employment than can be found anywhere else.

But the resources of New Mexico are not confined to her mineral wealth. In the Valley of the Rio Grande is found the finest fruit-growing country between the Missouri River and the Pacific Coast. Along the whole valley, from El Paso on the south to Santa Fé on the north, is found one of the best wine-growing districts in the world. The native wines of this section have become popular all over the country, far surpassing in richness the much-vaunted vintage of California, and equaling the renowned wines of France and Spain. In the wide valleys sheep and cattle range in countless numbers, requiring no more attention in summer or winter than the guarding of a herdsman. Here also the American farmer cultivates every variety of cereal with success, and with his improved farming machinery is fast supplanting the native and his ruder implements of agriculture.

In brief, the laborer may find here abundant employment, at good wages; capital and enterprise, rich fields for investment; the miner will find more gold than in California, and more silver than in Colorado, with no interruption of his work by snows and the rigors of winter; the fruit-grower and agriculturist may find blooming valleys and fertile fields; the stock-grower, rich grazing lands; while in the thrifty and growing cities of New Mexico every branch of trade is afforded opportunities for profitable development.

THE DENVER AND NEW ORLEANS RAILROAD COMPANY

Organized January 5, 1881, with a capital stock of $10,000,000, incorporators and directors residents of Denver, Colorado, to construct and operate a railroad and telegraph from the city of Denver, Colorado, to a point in connection with the Fort Worth and Denver City Railroad, on the Canadian River, in Texas; to establish railroad connection with the cities of New Orleans, Louisiana; Galveston, Texas, and Laredo, Mexico.

It is expected by the construction of about 375 miles of its main line, passing through the State of Colorado, Territory of New Mexico, and the State of Texas, to be completed about the end of the year 1882, to have direct railroad connection with the points named above, as well as all other points in the State of Texas reached by its system of railroads.

The company's line traverses a very rich section of country, and its completion will secure to Denver and the State of Colorado the shortest possible line to tide water. The first division of the line, between Denver and Pueblo, Colorado, is now nearly completed, and will be in operation in the early spring of 1882. It is of standard guage and is being constructed in the most substantial manner.

It is expected to receive a very large local traffic from its forests, coal mines and stone quarries on the line of its road, and the vast stock-raising region tributary to its line, as well as a large through traffic from its connections.

Colorado Springs,

EL PASO COUNTY,

On the line of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, seventy-six miles from Denver, is a beautiful and thriving city, and the county seat of El Paso County. It is fast acquiring a wide-spread reputation as a summer resort for tourists, being the point from which the renowned peak named after the "Pathfinder" and the celebrated Garden of the Gods are reached. There are also quite a number of medicinal springs at this place. a great attraction to invalids on account of their excellent curative qualities. The streets are broad and level, some of which are bordered by a beautiful growth of shade trees, through which clear and cold water from the mountains flows continually. The business houses and private homes are quaint and comfortable.

When the Denver and Rio Grande Railway Company began building south from Denver its projectors determined to plant another colony, and purchased for this purpose the discarded plateau at the foot of Pike's Peak. They invited General Cameron to come and assist them; they framed a colony organization, which prohibited the sale of intoxicating liquors; and they inaugurated a very liberal system with reference to the disposal of colony lots. Two-thirds of all lots, uniformly distributed, were designated colony lots, and were sold to actual settlers at very low figures. The money so received, less a small percentage representing the actual cost of the land per acre, was devoted wholly to permanent improvements. Under this arrangement a fine irrigating canal, supplied both from the Fontaine-qui-Bouille and Monument Creeks, was constructed; the streets were planted with long avenues of shade trees, which were watered by lateral ditches along each side of every street, and were well cared for year by year. Parks were laid out, fenced and planted, and an experimental garden was established. The railway company made its headquarters here, and gathered to this point a small and efficient staff, composed principally of young and enterprising Philadelphians. Nor was the British element altogether wanting, for the little group of pioneers have in vivid remembrance the tall, handsome form and Spanish features of Maurice Kingsley, the oldest son of the great author, and of his heroic and devoted sister, who fought out the coldest winter known in the annals of Colorado Springs in a thin board shanty far worse than a tent. The only other woman, be it recorded, at this early stage of the little colony, namely, that of Christmas, 1871, was Mrs. Giltner, who still presides over the little boot store which the early colony was so proud of.

The growth of the town at first was not as rapid as that of Greeley, but the little nucleus, on the principle that "birds of a feather flock together," gathered around it a number of cultivated and energetic people. By degrees the bright sunlight, the dry, healthy location of the town, its clean, well-kept streets and inviting residences, drew to it many who found that their physical condition required them to make a home for themselves in a mountain region. Thus the town grew and prospered. On July 31, 1871, the first frame house, if it deserves the name, was commenced. Now Colorado Springs contains 5,000 people, numerous churches and public buildings, including a beautiful stone college, a large school house, and an Episcopal Church, also of stone, several churches of wood, some of which are large edifices, the State Asylum for Deaf Mutes, and a well-constructed opera house, furnished with the latest stage appliances, similar to those of the Madison Square Theater in New York. Many of the residences are well worthy of special notice, but we do not feel justified in giving undue publicity to the dwellings of private citizens. Colorado College was founded in 1874. The central block of the building is now completed, and the wings will soon be added. Both ladies and gentlemen are admitted. Only teachers of eminent ability are employed. The location is peculiarly adapted to the health of students, and to the pursuit of studies in natural science. The town is lighted with gas, and exceptionally well supplied with excellent water. This water is carried seven miles in pipes from Ruxton Creek, which flows down one of the lovliest cañons above Manitou, where no impurities can ever reach it. The water arrives as clear as crystal, under high pressure; and, as no mechanical power is required, the water rates are very low, and water is furnished gratuitously for fountains and garden purposes.

Colorado Springs is the capital of El Paso County. The beautiful stone which is obtained from the Manitou quarries, and ranks highest among the many good building stones of the State in the Denver market would form a fitting material for State buildings, and is used for all the choice structures in the town.

El Paso County is one of the richest in the State, and has always maintained a high credit. The first public work of importance was the construction of a free county road through the Ute Pass into the South Park, an undertaking both costly and difficult, but one which has contributed far more to the commercial prosperity of Colorado Springs than its originators ever anticipated; for during two years of the most active growth at Leadville, this excellent road induced most of the trade destined for California Gulch to seek Colorado Springs and the South Park route as the best highway to Leadville. The cattle interests of the county are important, and many of the chief cattle men have their residences at Colorado Springs. The same may be said of a number of gentlemen interested in the mines throughout the State, especially in Leadville and the San Juan country. Their families reside here.

There is a fine view of Pike's Peak from every part of Colorado Springs, but a still better one is obtained five miles further off, to the northeast. Cheyenne Mountain, forming the southeastern extremity of the range, stands up in majestic grandeur in full view of the town, and is a "thing of beauty and a joy forever" to the inhabitants. The objects of interest in the vicinity are many, and the livery stables, which supply the means of visiting them, are numerous and excellent, for the best Kentucky stock, both for riding and driving, is owned by the livery men. To briefly enumerate the places best worth visiting, we will begin south of the town, and progress to the east, north and west.

Bear Creek Cañon is reached by taking the road to Colorado City, and thence turning to the left. This is a beautiful drive of five miles, at the end of which the government trail to Pike's Peak carries pedestrians and horsemen to the summit. Bear Creek Cañon itself is a picturesque, wooded glen, with a dashing torrent, and abounds in wild flowers. Bears are still frequently seen here, and are more alarmed at the stranger than the stranger has any reason to be alarmed at them.

The Cheyenne Cañons are three and a half and four and a half miles distant. The road to these favorite resorts for picnic and pleasure parties starts in a southwesterly direction across the Fontaine, and is common to the two for two miles and a half, at which point it separates, the left road leading to Cheyenne Cañon, the Cheyenne Mountain toll-road and the Seven Lakes, and the road to the right leading to North Cheyenne Cañon only, the more distant of the two. Both these Cañons are fine specimens of Rocky Mountain gorges. They are deeply cut into the sides of the beautiful mountain, and expose grand faces of magnificent red granite many hundred feet high. The Rocky Mountain pine, the Douglas spruce, the white spruce, and that most lovely tree of all, the Picea Grandis, grow luxuriantly in both cañons, while in the autumn season the Virginia creeper, two species of clematis (a mauve and a white), hop vines and other climbers, lend a grace and charm to many a shady bower. North Cheyenne Cañon is the more open of the two, the stream is larger and more uproarious, and at many places the sides of the gorge can be easily climbed, and fine vistas thus obtained of the surrounding scenery. In South Cheyenne cañon, on the contrary, the walls are very precipitous and imposing, and can be scaled only in one or two places by those accustomed to climbing. The stream, although smaller than its neighbor, forms, about two miles from its mouth, a fine cascade, falling about 500 feet in seven leaps.

The Cheyenne Mountain toll-road is well worth seeing. It ascends the mountain about one-half mile south of the entrance to South Cheyenne Cañon, and winds for about ten miles, with easy grades, through very fine scenery, at times affording glimpses down into the cañon below.

The Seven Lakes are reached from the end of the above described road by means of a good horse trail about ten miles long. The lakes are picturesque as such sheets of water usually are among the mountains, and there is an inn for the accommodation of visitors.

"My Garden" is a very favorite resort discovered by H. H., the authoress and poet. Take the Cheyenne road one and a half miles from Colorado Springs then follow due south past Broad Moor dairy farm, half a mile, then through a gate across the "Big Hollow," and "My Garden" is reached—a lovely pine grove crowning a plateau, with an exquisite view of the range behind it.

Austin's Bluffs are five miles from Colorado Springs. Take the old Denver road, due north toward Templeton's Gap, for four miles, and then bear to the right into the Bluffs. There is no fear of missing the road, and when the Bluffs are reached, not only does the plain present a limitless expanse, influence of which few can behold unimpressed, but mountains hitherto unthought of suddenly appear. Apparently from the southern plains rise the twin heads of the Spanish Peaks, while the still loftier and more pointed crags—the topmost summits of the Sangre de Christo Range—uplift their snow-capped crests to the southwestern sky. The Spanish Peaks are a hundred miles distant; the tops of the Sangre de Christo Range, which are visible from this point, are at least thirty miles further. They equal Pike's Peak in elevation, and really lie on the other side of the by no means insignificant chain of the Greenhorn Mountains, from behind which they rear their snow-clad summits.

Denver,

ARAPAHOE COUNTY.

The city of Denver lies, at an altitude of 5,197 feet, near the western border of the plains, within twelve miles of the Rocky Mountains, the Colorado or front range of which may be seen for an extent of over 200 miles, forming a magnificent feature of the extended landscape. The plains encompass the city, stretching for hundreds of miles to the north, east and south, and westward to the mountains. Reaching Denver from the east, after traveling for hundreds of miles over the bare and lonely plains, the sensation is not unlike first stepping on land after a voyage at sea. The contrast is delightful between the great rolling, verdureless tract, whose magnitude can hardly be realized by those who have never crossed it, and the beautiful city which the traveler comes upon suddenly, lying in a slight depression, embowered in thick-set shade trees. Denver is well entitled to the appellation "the Queen City of the Plains," by which its citizens delight to designate it.

The city was born of the first Pike's Peak gold excitement in 1858–59. In 1860 it was a straggling camp, consisting principally of log cabins and tents in about equal proportions. In 1870 the United States census showed a population of 4,579; and the last census, June 1, 1880, enumerated 35,719 inhabitants. Since that date over 600 buildings have been erected, and the population has increased to over 40,000. The annual directory for 1881 shows a gain of 6,043 names over the year previous, and the publishers, with accustomed liberality, place the number of inhabitants at 50,000. An examination of the census returns, and a glance at Denver's building improvements since 1876, will show that no city in the Union is having a more rapid and substantial growth.

The principal business streets are Blake, Holladay, Larimer, Lawrence, Fifteenth and Sixteenth; but business is by no means confined to these, being scattered over a large area. There are four National and two State banks, the aggregate deposits of which October 1, 1880, amounted to $6,123,358.86. The amount of Eastern exchange drawn during 1880 was $65,000,000. There are two fire insurance companies, one live-stock insurance company, and three co-operative life insurance associations. The water supply is taken from the Platte River above the city, and conveyed to a large reservoir, known as Lake Archer, from which it is distributed by the Holly system. Gas was introduced several years ago, and the Denver Gas Company have extended their pipes to nearly all parts of the city; but during the present year gas will be superseded, as a means of lighting the streets, by the Brush electric light. The Denver Steam Heating Company have over two miles of pipe laid. The telephone is in general use, and the large poles that support its numerous wires add to the metropolitan appearance of the streets. A branch of the United States Mint is located here, but is used only for assays and not for coinage. Denver is the capital of Colorado, and contains the State offices and the United States Courts for the District of Colorado. It is also the county seat of Arapahoe County, a fine Court House for which is now in process of erection at a cost of $250,000.

The public schools of Denver are free to all residents, and are regarded as among the best in the country. The course of study at the high school is quite as extensive and thorough as that of the best schools of similar character in the East. The school buildings are all substantial structures of brick or stone, conveniently arranged in modern style. Aside from the public schools there are several important educational institutions, the most prominent of which are the University of Denver, and Colorado Seminary, under the control of the Methodist Episcopal Church, recently inaugurated in a fine building erected in 1880; Jarvis Hall, boarding and day school for boys, and Wolfe Hall Seminary for young ladies, managed by the Episcopal Church; Brinker Collegiate Institute, Colorado Business College, and St. Mary's Academy, a large Roman Catholic institution.

The Windsor Hotel is a large and handsome structure, 125x200 feet in size, ground measurement, and five stories and basement in height. The two façades are of a beautiful pink-tinted Colorado stone. It was opened in 1880, and is furnished and kept in first-class style, taking rank with the best hotels in the country. Its location is but four blocks from the Union Depot, at the corner of Larimer and Eighteenth Streets, convenient to the business center of the city. The Tabor Opera House, begun last year and completed this summer, has a frontage of 125 feet on Sixteenth Street and 225 on Curtis Street. The exterior is of iron and Colorado pressed brick, with Manitou stone trimmings. The auditorium is designed to accommodate 1,600 persons, and is fitted up in a style equal to that of the best Eastern theatres. The Tabor Block, corner of Sixteenth and Larimer Streets was completed in 1880, at a cost of $225,000. It is built of Ohio sandstone, and from its lofty height and architectural beauty, is one of the most noticeable buildings in the city. In addition to these, the Glenarm Hotel, now used as a State House, the King Block, the new Episcopal Cathedral of St. John's, the Central Presbyterian Church, and many other important buildings, are evidences of the solid character of Denver's remarkable growth. The number of beautiful and costly private residences is in keeping with the character of its business blocks. Fourteenth Street and Capital Hill, an eminence in the southeastern part of the city, are the sites of many tasteful and expensive dwellings. Hotel and boarding-house accommodations are ample, and of superior quality, and the rates but little higher than in seaboard cities.

The works of the Boston and Colorado Smelting Company, at Argo, in the suburbs of Denver, are among the finest and most extensive gold and silver reducing establishments in the world. The buildings are of immense size, and are constructed of cut stone, with corrugated iron roofs. The large ore house alone is 450 feet long by 120 feet wide, and the principal smelting furnaces occupy another building nearly 300 feet in length; besides which there are the refining works, offices and other large buildings. No expense is spared, either in chemical and practical experiments or machinery, to enable the company to treat all classes of ore, including the most refractory, and their success has been a marked factor in the mining development of Colorado. Their shipments of gold, silver and copper in 1879 were $2,449,500, and in 1880 they were $2,730,500. To produce these results there are thirty great kilns for roasting and desulphurizing the ore, and requiring wood for fuel; ten ore calciners, or roasting furnaces; eight calcining furnaces in the refining department, and five melting furnaces. Each of the thirty large furnaces has a smoke-stack 100 feet high. The consumption of coal reaches one hundred tons per day, this being a species of consumption for which the climate of Colorado is not an antidote.

The Colorado Coal and Iron Company has a rolling-mill situated on the south side of the Platte, opposite the Boston and Colorado Smelting Works. The mill is adapted for making all ordinary sizes of iron rail and merchant iron, and it is proposed to erect puddling furnaces here to work pig iron from the company's furnaces at South Pueblo, and to put in machinery for the manufacture of railway splice bars, spikes, bolts, etc.

The Union Depot, used by the Denver and Rio Grande Railway and the Union Pacific lines, is a beautiful stone structure, 503 feet long and 63 feet wide, with a French roof, and tower 165 feet high. It is two stories in height, the upper floor being used for railway offices and a hotel. On the first floor, conveniently located, are the baggage room, 62x75 feet; ladies' waiting room, 56x59 feet; gents' waiting room, 60x62 feet; dining room, 44x62 feet; two express rooms, each 30x62, with fire and burglar proof vaults; mail rooms, telegraph and ticket offices, barber shop, lunch and check stands, fitted with all modern improvements for the convenience and comfort of the traveling public. The freight depot of the Denver and Rio Grande Railway, between Tenth and Eleventh Streets, is a large, handsome stone building.

The car and repair shops of Denver and Rio Grande Railway in the south part of the city, constitute the largest manufacturing establishment in Denver. Over 550 workmen are constantly employed, and it is frequently necessary to greatly increase this force. All repairs of locomotives and rolling-stock are made here, and both freight and passenger cars are manufactured, although the former have been in such demand that but few coaches could be built. The present capacity of the works is about five new cars a day, but with the completion of the car shops now building it will be easy to turn out double that number. The buildings are all of brick, with corrugated iron roofs, and are exceptionally high, well lighted, roomy and convenient. The office, which fronts the main track, is 35x60 feet in size, two stories high, with large windows, making it a model office building. Back of it is the store-room, having the appearance of an extensive hardware store, 208x57 feet in size, with a high roof. Under it is a basement of equal size. Next is the machine shop, 290x75 feet, with a truss roof that does away with the use of columns. Surmounting the roof is a skylight 26 feet wide and 280 feet long. Adjoining are the engine and boiler rooms, both models of neatness and convenience; a tool room and brass room, 60x28 feet and a tin shop of similar size. The smokestack, 107 feet high, is built square at the bottom, but rises in octagonal form, with panels. The car shops now building, comprise a machine department, 260x60 feet, and an erecting department, 240x60 feet, with a second story of the same proportions, which will be used for cabinet work. The dimensions of the paint shop are 55x280 feet. The present car and blacksmith shop is 250x 50 feet. Besides these are two large round-houses, one with stalls for fourteen locomotives, and the other with fourteen tracks for car repairs, and a drying kiln for lumber, 75x38 feet. The transfer table, between the machine shop and blacksmith and car shops, is in three sections, which may be used jointly or separately, and two men can readily move a heavy locomotive to any point where it may be desirable to place it. Both broad and narrow-gauge supply tracks run between the store room and machine shops. All the buildings are heated by steam in winter, and are so arranged with ventilators and sliding doors and windows, and are so lofty and airy that the workmen are not annoyed by heat in summer. Seen from a distance the shops constitute a noticeable feature, being so arranged, with the tall chimneys and highest roofs near the center, as to fall into a harmonious group, none the less picturesque and imposing in appearances because it is a temple of Vulcan.

The new "Republican" building approaching completion, three stories, occupies 25x100 feet, at 290 Sixteenth Street. The "Republican" will have the most complete newspaper and job office west of the Missouri River.

Real estate in Denver is in active demand, and many buildings are in course of erection. Messrs. Marcus Finch & Co. cheerfully accord to strangers any information regarding city property and Colorado farming land. They have many bargains on hand at present. Messrs. Finch & Co. are also agents for the sale of some of the most choice mining property in the Rocky Mountain regions.

The Denver Transfer Co. has established an excellent system for transferring passengers from the Union Depot (where trains of all lines arrive and depart) to the hotels and residences. Omnibuses for each district are in waiting when trains arrive, and without any fuss or excitement passengers and baggage are domiciled ten minutes after reaching the city.

Manitou Springs,

EL PASO COUNTY.

Situated at the base of Pike's Peak, five miles distant from Colorado Springs, are the famous mineral springs of Manitou, in which so much interest has been centered of very recent years that they have been called the Saratoga of the West. Thousands of visitors come here annually, a great many of whom are pleasure-seekers, while a majority are invalids who come to drink of and bathe in the wonderful waters which gush from their subterranean homes incessantly. The scenery in the vicinity is claimed to be the most magnificent in all this land of wonders. The hotels are very fine both at Manitou and Colorado Springs, whose spacious dining halls afford excellent accommodations for those who seek enjoyment after the shades of evening have fallen, in tripping the light fantastic toe. The Manitou House, which is kept by Mr. S. B. Jennings, is the nearest to the depot. The house is beautifully located, with a park and fountain separating it from the dust of the road. The Beebee House (F. W. Beebee, proprietor) is next in order from the depot. The house was formerly the Manitou Mansions, and is the largest of the hotels in Manitou. The house has rooms for 250 guests, and controls numerous cottages. The Barker Hotel is centrally located, and is opposite the Shoshone and other springs. The proprietor, Hon. C. W. Barker, is an old and experienced hotel man, and does all in his power to make his house a home for all. The Cliff House has the advantage of lying at the very gate-way of Ute Pass and the entrance to William's Cañon, with its Cave of the winds, and in the center of the numerous springs. A thickly foliaged park in front of the house contains the Soda Springs and one iron spring, with a pretty pavilion amid the trees. The proprietor, Mr. E. E. Nichols, his wife and assistants, will do all in their power to make the "Cliff" a pleasant, cheerful place for all who will stop with them.

Pueblo,

PUEBLO COUNTY.

Has a population of about 7,000, and is the county seat. It is situated on the banks of the Arkansas River, near its junction with the Fountain Qui Boille. Besides having direct communication with the East by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé R. R., and being a station on the Denver and Rio Grande, it has railroad communication with Leadville by the last-named road. It is in the very heart of the richest agricultural region of Southern Colorado, is the principal city of that section, and has advantages in traffic that are exceptionally fine, the whole mineral district to the west being, by force of circumstances, reliant upon it for supplies. It was, a brief period since, one of that class of towns which, in the history of Colorado, was styled "an adobe," but the advance of civilization, has in a great measure replaced them with substantial and sightly buildings. The city is situated on a wide and level plateau, at an altitude of 6,000 feet above the sea level, has a cosmopolitan population, a certain proportion of whom are Mexicans, and is regarded as an unusually healthy place. Its growth, while not characterized by that thrift which is so noticeable in some mining towns of the State, is of a permanent and gradual nature. There are several places of industry in the town, prominent among which are the rolling mills and smelting works. The churches and schools are well attended, and the papers, the Chieftain and the Pueblo News (both having daily and weekly editions), are ably conducted, and are in a prosperous condition.

The Lindell House, a fine three-story brick, is kept by Mr. Geo. T. Breed, a fine and genial gentleman, and of whom the common saying is fully true, "He knows how to keep a hotel." The Mt. Pleasant Hotel, kept by the Kircher Bros., is pleasantly located, one block from the business portion of the city, upon a high knoll overlooking the entire town.

Trinidad,

LAS ANIMAS COUNTY.

Is an incorporated city of about 4,500 inhabitants, and situated in the southern part of the State of Colorado, and distant about thirteen miles from the boundary between Colorado and New Mexico. The Purgatoire River flows through the town, and is a stream of water large enough to irrigate the valley for over sixty miles. The city was founded about twenty years ago, and until the past three or four years the inhabitants were mostly Mexicans. The southern extension of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad passes through the town, and the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad terminus is about four miles below the town, which connects with Trinidad by stage. For miles in every direction the coal is seen cropping out of the hills, and coal mining is one of the leading industries. Although there has never been any steps taken to manufacture iron, yet iron ore of good quality, and averaging thirty-five to forty per cent. is abundant. There are several stone business blocks and several in course of construction. Almost every denomination hold services, and lodges of all beneficial societies are in operation. The town is supplied with water by engine which pumps the water from a cistern which is supplied by a conduit 300 feet long, drawing its supply from subterranean springs. The Trinidad Gas-works were completed this year. Building material of almost every kind is found in the vicinity of the city. Among the principal manufacturing industries of the city is the Trinidad Steam Stone Sawing Works and Grindstone Manufactory. which commenced operations in the spring of 1881. The stone used by these works is a beautiful blue sandstone, of a very superior quality. This is the only industry of the kind on the railroad line from Kansas City to California, and is destined to become an important manufactory.

The First National Bank of Trinidad does business with a capital and surplus of $100,000. It has excellent facilities for making collections in southern Colorado and northern New Mexico.

The United States Hotel here is conceded to be one of the best in the State. Its cuisine and accommodations are of the first order.

West Las Animas,

BENT COUNTY.

West Las Animas is on the main line of the Atchison, Topeke & Santa Fé Railroad, 200 miles south of Denver and 96 miles from Pueblo. It is the county seat of Bent County, and has a population of 600 souls. The town derives its name from Rio Las Animas, which flows into the Arkansas at a point about two miles away. It depends almost exclusively upon the live-stock interest for its support; great herds of cattle and flocks of sheep being owned by the residents of the place. Its schools are in a flourishing condition, and the place is a very healthy one. Its prospects for becoming a town of some importance is very bright.

KANSAS.

ALPHABETICALLY.

THE history of this great commonwealth contains as many pages, figuratively, that are stained with the blood of victims of relentless ruffianism as its soil does redeeming virtues. The early times of her record were those which "tried men's souls" indeed, but, thank God, the yoke of slavery was supplanted by the collar of independence and freedom, and she shines most luminously as one of the constellation of our favored Union. Possessing, as she does, boundless prairies of remarkable fruitfulness, her march of progress must be uninterrupted, and her destiny all that the word greatness implies. Stretching from the 37th to the 40th parallels of north latitude, and from the 94th to the 102d degrees of west longitude, she occupies an area that is of greater magnitude than could be conceived by reference simply to a map. When her 86,400 square miles have been thoroughly traversed, or her 55,296,000 acres have been located by the use of a compass, then some idea perhaps can be obtained of her greatness. Although she is comparatively in her infancy, she presents a most favorable showing for the current year, and one that her citizens may justly feel proud of. The area sown to grain was fifty per cent. greater than the preceding year, while the increase in live stock amounts to 117 per cent. There are over 3,000 miles of railway in the State, with a prospect of 500 miles being added in the construction of new lines before the expiration of the next six months. There are quite a number of cities in the State with a population exceeding 10,000, all of which are handsomely built and beautifully laid out. Her numerous streams are capable of furnishing motive power to drive the machinery of the world, while her deposits of superior building stone and excellent coal are unlimited.

Along the lines of the Kansas Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroads are thousands of acres of land, productive as any in the world, which is owned and for sale by the respective roads, and as the tide of persons seeking cheap homes is constantly flowing into those sections, it would be advisable for those who desire to procure homes on easy terms to take steps in that direction as soon as possible.

RAILROADS.

It was but fourteen years since that the important but youthful State of Kansas was very low down on the list of States in agricultural productions, but in 1878 she occupied the first rank in the production of wheat, while her crop of corn gave her the fourth position among those of her sisters, whose immense yields of that cereal brought them into enviable prominence. This was at a period, too, when but one-eighth of her territory was under cultivation. To the rapidity of her march towards this unparalleled development as a food-producing State, like those of her western sisters, she is indebted to the presence of her magnificent railway system, which was inaugurated and has been managed by the most intelligent, efficient and practical of business men, whose creditable management has added greatly to the fame of the State.

THE ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FÉ,

With its line from Atchison, on the Missouri River, to the western-most boundary of the great commonwealth, penetrates and opens up to settlement the richest portion of it, along which scores of smiling villages have sprung up, farms have been purchased and are being cultivated, and an air of permanent growth pervades the whole extent. The receipts of this road from the date of its completion have gradually increased, and its traffic still keeps with the settlement of this fertile section. In 1872 the survey of this great route was finished, and its construction that year through the Arkansas Valley was one of the most important events in the history of this prosperous State. There are but twelve organized counties in the valley, which is fast acquiring a notoriety as the most productive, most healthful and most progressive region of Kansas, though a report recently issued by the State Board of Agriculture shows that, although the most recently settled, the production of wheat in these counties amounted to thirty-seven and one-half per cent. of the entire yield of the State for the year 1878. In these counties, all of which border this popular route, there are 200,000 people, who impersonate industry, enterprise and intelligence, and who have established 400 church organizations, 833 schools and thirty-four newspapers. Besides the wheat crop mentioned, broom corn, oats, barley and corn, aggregating twenty-four per cent. of the total value of those productions throughout the State, were added to the results of farm labor. The soil of this beautiful valley is a dark, sandy loam, varying from two to five feet in depth, which is underlaid with a porous subsoil, and which practical demonstration has proved to be almost equal in production to that of the surface, which gently undulates from one end to the other of this promising valley, thus affording excellent natural drainage, leaving the atmosphere free from the taints of malaria, and making the locality attractive as a place of residence. The abundance of nutritious grasses also offers superior inducements to stockraisers, since experiments in this branch of industry have shown that it can be made most profitable. Atchison, Topeka and Sant Fé Railway owns land on either side of the entire length of its route, which is offered to purchasers at reasonable rates on most favorable terms. Desirable homes can be secured in this section by those who are seeking them, and transportation can be obtained at reduced rates on application to the management. The coaches of the road are inferior to none in the west; the officers and employes are attentive, polite and courteous; and the best of treatment is always assured to patrons. Cheap transportation of household and other goods is offered by the company, and in this they show a disposition that is highly commendable. Besides the main line there are several branches of the road leading in different directions, one to and beyond Wichita, a prosperous and thriving town, one to Eldorado, one to Greenwood and one to McPherson, whose combined length, including the branches to Kansas City and Pleasant Hill; will probably aggregate 800 miles, all of which are in active operation.

THE KANSAS DIVISION OF THE UNION PACIFIC.

This pioneer line has contributed not a little to the growth of Central Kansas, whose construction, in 1869, was the signal of a vast immigration of industrious people to the wonderful State, who have built substantial towns and cities, and taxed the resources of the virgin soil to its utmost capacity of production, though without endangering its fertility in the least, which strongly supports the argument favoring its exhaustless nature. The road also passes through a very rich agricultural and stock-raising region, whose remarkable development is a subject of wonder and admiration. There are perhaps 2,000 miles of railway in the State, with an immediate prospect of a flattering increase of this amount.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

OF THE ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FÉ RAILROAD.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé Railroad originated in the minds of the early settlers of Kansas, as far back as the year 1858, the principal men who undertook the organization being Gen. B. F. Stringfellow, of Atchison, who is now a Director of the road, Hon. S. C. Pomeroy, and Col. C. K. Holliday, of Topeka, also a Director in the road, who, with several others, held a convention in Topeka for the purpose of blocking out a system of railroads for the State of Kansas. One of the roads decided upon at that meeting was a line from Atchison through Topeka toward Santa Fé, which to-day is the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé, with its extensions and numerous branches. The first work that was done on the road was to build a line from Topeka to Carbondale, a distance of eighteen miles, which was opened for business in July, 1869. From Carbondale the road was gradually completed west through Burlingame and Osage City to Emporia, which point was reached in July, 1870. Another year took the line to

Newton, 135 miles from Topeka. In the spring of 1872 the construction of the line from Atchison to Topeka was completed, and also an extension from Newton to Wichita, making a total mileage of 212 miles. The work was steadily pushed forward through the Arkansas Valley, from Newton west, and in June, 1872, the city of Hutchinson, 218 miles from Atchison, was the end of the track. Another year took the line to Grenada, Col., where it rested for two years, owing to the financial panic of 1873, etc. It was a difficult matter at that time to get money to build railroads, but certain enterprising people in Boston had their attention directed to the future of this line, and they determined to take hold of it; these were Messrs. Thomas and Joseph Nickerson, C. W. Pierce, Alden Speare, I. T. Burr, and a few others, all heavy capitalists. They secured control of the road, and in the spring of 1875 began to push it ahead. In September, 1875, it reached Las Animas, Col., 531 miles from the Missouri River. Here they met very vital competition in the cattle traffic, the greater part of which, up to this time, had gone over the Kansas Pacific via Las Animas to Kit Carson, and the Kansas Pacific company threatened to build mile for mile along side of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé track if they continued their construction any further west; and so both lines started out about ten feet apart for Pueblo. The Kansas Pacific was a rich corporation, and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé was a poor one; but they had the pluck, and they went ahead. The Kansas Pacific followed them until they reached La Junta, where they gave it up, and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé went into Pueblo in February, 1876. Shortly afterward the Kansas Pacific track was taken up, leaving a clear field for the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé Road. About the same time that the line was opened up at Pueblo, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé Railroad secured possession of the old Kansas Midland Road, which ran from Topeka to Lawrence on the south side of the Kaw River, and completed it to Kansas City, at which point they opened up on March 1, 1876. The next important extension was the line from La Junta, sixty-three miles east of Pueblo, to Trinidad, distance eighty-two miles. This was completed in September, 1878, since which time the work of extension in New Mexico, in which the greatest difficulties have been encountered in tunneling and working through mountain passes, has been steadily pushed forward. Numerous branches have been built in the State of Kansas, which are all proving valuable feeders to the original line. The eighteen miles in 1869, connecting two counties in Kansas, have grown (August, 1881,) to over 1,800 miles of road, reaching out and extending into seven States, viz.: Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Texas and Old Mexico. At Deming, New Mexico, a connection has been made with the Southern Pacific R. R., making a new Southern through line to San Francisco. Two lines

THE BRANCH LINES OF THE ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE IN KANSAS.

ARKANSAS CITY BRANCH.

This branch extends from Mulvane, on the Arkansas River, through Winfield to Arkansas City, within four miles of the Indian Territory, the distance being thirty-six miles.

CALDWELL BRANCH.

This branch leaves the main line at Newton and proceeds in a southerly direction down the Little Arkansas Valley to Wichita, Rome and Caldwell, the entire length of the line being eighty miles.

EL DORADO BRANCH.

This branch leaves the main line at Florence and extends down the Walnut Valley to Augusta and Douglas.

HOWARD BRANCH.

The Howard branch extends south from Emporia to Howard, a distance of seventy-five miles.

KANSAS CITY BRANCH.

The Kansas City branch, sixty-six miles long, ends at Topeka.

McPHERSON BRANCH.

This branch leaves the main line at Florence and extends along the bank of the Cottonwood River northwesterly for ten miles, thence west to Ellinwood, Barton County. Marion Center, ten miles north of Florence, is the county seat of Marion County. Hillsboro and Lehigh are also stations in Marion County. At McPherson the road is intersected by the Salina and Southwestern R. R., a branch of the Union Pacific extending from the north. From Lyons the road extends due west to Ellinwood.

PLEASANT HILL BRANCH.

This branch extends in a southeasterly direction from Cedar Junction through a very rich agricultural district to Olathe, ten miles distant. One mile east the road is crossed by the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Gulf Railroad. Three miles east of Stanley miles to Pleasant Hill, Mo., the entire length of the branch being miles distant. One mile east the road is crossed by the Kansas forty-five miles.

Abilene,

DICKINSON COUNTY.

In the year 1869 no place was the scene of greater activity than this pretty little capital of Dickinson County. At an early period in its history the town became famous for its lawlessness and barbarism, but with the advance of civilization and with the improvement of the county, these objectionable features were expelled from her social system, and to-day she stands an example of morality and refined culture. There is a prevalent spirit of enterprise and public improvement shown to an encouraging degree in the citizens of the place, and her rapid strides from a fourth to a third-class city warrant the belief that she is destined to become one of the most important, if not one of the leading cities of the State. Surrounded as she is by fertile and well-improved country, with splendid schools and an excellent sanitary condition as additional attractive elements, and with a class of people that are hospitably disposed, she must become a progressive city. There are three weekly newspapers published here, whose general appearance reflects the character of their supporters, and shows to an eminent degree what the feeling is concerning a respectable press. The business houses, as a rule, are well constructed, while the public buildings, notably the graded schools, are perfect gems in their way. Trains stop here for meals going both East and West. The Merchants' Hotel is the leading hotel of the town. It has elegant sample rooms for traveling men, and is first-class in every respect. Mrs. A. W. Sibbald is a lady of experience in hotel business, and knows how to cater to the tastes of the traveling public, and we wish her the success she so heartily deserves. The genial clerk of the house, Mr. J. C. Criswell is enough to warrant that fact. The population is estimated to be 2,700, with a prospect of being increased thirty-three and one-third per cent. during the next twelve months. There are three banks, besides elevators. mills, hotels and other places of industry and business. It is 162 miles west of Kansas City.

Atchison,

ATCHISON COUNTY,

The county seat, is situated on the Missouri River in the northeastern part of the State, between the Missouri cities of St. Joseph and Kansas City; is the eastern terminus of the great Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé thoroughfare, and has a population of eighteen to twenty thousand. Its site is in the form of an amphitheatre, though not lying on the river bottoms proper. Its topography is greatly diversified, and the numerous hills abound in quarries of blue limestone. The city is reputed to be healthy and clean. It was founded in 1854 by a town company, one of whose members was the now well-known Dr. Stringfellow. The first newspaper was the Squatter Sovereign, which appeared in 1855. The first railroad, what is now the Kansas City, St. Joseph and Council Bluffs, was built in 1860. Work on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé commenced in 1871. Atchison is very favorably situated as a commercial city, being the converging point of an extensive railroad system, and located on a navigable river. It is a great grain market, has ten large elevators with an aggregate capacity of 876,000 bushels, which in one year alone handled 9,411,910 bushels of grain. Another factor in the grain traffic is the numerous large flouring mills. The city has also stock-yards, and a pork-packing establishment which does an immense business. All other industries are well represented, especially manufacturies, which produce such articles as canned fruit, flax, spice, crackers, cigars, harness and saddles, barrels, linseed oil, furniture, carriages, machinery, iron work, etc. The hotels are numerous and elegant. Six newspapers are published in the city, three of which issue daily editions. Atchison is well-known to be a great railroad center, the following lines either terminating or passing through the city: the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad, that modern wonder of the railroad world, of which Atchison is a terminal point, Central Branch Union Pacific, Atchison and Nebraska, Missouri Pacific, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, Hannibal and St. Joseph, Kansas City, St. Joseph and Council Bluffs, and Burlington and Missouri River Railroads. pointments of buildings of its class—has been built to accommodate the large passenger traffic. There are many public enterprises well sustained, among them a system of waterworks and a line of street railway. The river is spanned at this place by a handsome bridge. Not only is Atchison a lively business mart, but it is socially attractive. Its churches form a very prominent feature. It has a library, four large public school buildings, and three higher institutions of learning, viz: St. Benedict's College, the Atchison Institute, and St. Scholastica's Academy. Distance from Topeka, fifty miles; from Pueblo, 619 miles, from Santa Fé, 853 miles.

Burlingame,

A pleasant little city of Osage County, situated seventy-six miles west from Atchison, and like her sister city, Osage, is surrounded by a very rich country. Her principal manufactory is the City Flouring Mills, one of the most complete establishments of the kind in the West. Immense quantities of hay are baled here for shipment. The population is about 1,500, and the citizens are moral and industrious.

Clay Centre,

CLAY COUNTY.

A beautiful little city of 2,800 souls, not inappropriately called the "Queen City of the Golden Belt," is situated on the Republican River, in the center of as fertile a farming section as the State boasts of. These are a few of the features which recommend this thriving city for a place of business or residence: It lays on two railroads, a branch of the U. P. R. R. and the Kansas Central. It has four tasty churches, a new school house, which cost complete $20,000; a new Opera House, costing from $15,000 to $20,000, capable of seating 800 people, in course of construction, that will afford amusement to those æsthetically inclined; a new hotel (the Dispatch, so called after the popular paper of that name,) conducted and managed by Messrs. Walton & Valentine, two young men of characteristic Western grit, that a city of five times Clay Centre's size might be proud of, and we wish them success.

Clyde,

CLOUD COUNTY,

A place of 200 inhabitants about 200 miles from Kansas City, northwest. It is at the terminus of the Kansas Pacific branch, and a station on the Central branch of the Union Pacific Railroad. It is supported chiefly by agricultural interests. There are two papers published here, and are quite liberally patronized. Several churches, a fine school house costing $15,000. The sanitary features are decidedly noticeable as very fine. There are several hotels here, of which the Pomeroy Hotel is the leader. It is situated close to the depot, and surrounded by beautiful shrubbery. The proprietors, Messrs T. E. & J. H. Barons, by their courteous and polite treatment to their guests, deserve the success which attends their efforts to cater to the tastes of the traveling public. We heartily wish them the patronage they deserve.

Dodge City,

FORD COUNTY.

The county seat and business center of Ford County; is beautifully located, chiefly on the left side of the Arkansas River, and is the last town of importance in Kansas as you go westward over the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railway. It contains a population of nearly 2,000, and its people are distinguished for their enterprise and commercial activity. It is the principal shipping point for cattle from the vast herds of the southwest, many thousands leaving here annually for the markets of the eastern cities; it is also a leading outfitting point, from which the forts and people to the far Southwest are furnished with supplies of various kinds. Great herds of cattle graze in the near vicinity of the town, and with the increased growth of the surrounding country, there is every reason to believe that Dodge City will become a place of still greater proportions, and of much greater commercial importance.

Ellis,

ELLIS COUNTY.

Although one of the oldest towns in Western Kansas, and in a rich agricultural region, it is not as well built, nor is there as much business transacted as in the adjacent places. Some of the citizens concede the fact that a selfish spirit is made manifest in the management of affairs by its prominent residents and leading business men, who for the sake of personal aggrandizement and gain, discourage its growth by ignoring the benefits which must accrue from the ad-

Emporia,

The county seat of Lyon County, has a fine elevated location between the Neosho and Cottonwood Rivers, six miles west of their junction, and one mile from each stream. The city is handsomely laid out with wide streets, with many fine brick and stone business blocks. Commercial, the principal thoroughfare, regarded as the most attractive street in the State, is 100 feet wide, and much of its length is macadamized. At the north end of this beautiful street stands the Kansas State Normal School building, a substantial and charmingly attractive edifice, erected by the State at an expense of $100,000. It is in a flourishing condition, and doing a noble work in educating teachers for the common schools. The business houses have a fine local trade, and some of them do a respectable jobbing trade with distant counties. The railroad facilities are excellent, the

Grainfield,

GOVE COUNTY.

Located on the U. P. R. R., K. P. branch, about 283 miles east of Denver. It is the largest town west of Wakeeney. All classes of mercantile business is carried on here by several very enterprising business men. It has a post-office (C. M. Burr postmaster), telegraph and express (Pacific). The Occidental Hotel is the only first-class hotel, and no better is found west of Kansas City. It was erected at a cost of $10,000, Beal & Dryer proprietors—two gentlemen who understand the business and know what is wanted by the traveling public, as they are men of characteristic western grit that a town of ten times the size of Grainfield may be proud of. Persons seeking relief from asthma or consumption, can find comfortable quarters here as the climate is very healthy and said to cure the diseases mentioned.

Hays City,

ELLIS COUNTY.

The growth of this place, until quite recently, was not marked by great strides, though it has never faltered in its advancement to a permanent progress, and it cannot be gainsaid that its future is laden with bright promise. For a number of years during its early history its only support was drawn from the garrison which was located at this point, and from the fort from which the town derives its name; but with the completion of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, there came an immigration of people who cultivated the soil and turned their attention to other pursuits, through which means an active commerce sprang up. Her importance as an agricultural and stock center soon became known and a change in her condition was the result. At the present time an air of prosperity hovers over the place, and the musical sounds of the hammer and saw are the attractive features of the pretty little town. It is situated on a natural esplanade, 288 miles west of Kansas City, and is surrounded by a rich agricultural section. It is the county seat of Ellis County, and a handsome Court House, which stands on the brow of the incline overlooking the place, reflects great credit on the pride of the people. The building is a two-story stone, costing upwards of $16,000, and is constructed with an eye to architectural beauty and convenience. There are several pretty business houses, besides a number of cozy residences and an elegant school house which cost $10,000. There are also two weekly newspapers, the proprietors of which have long been members of the "art preservative," and "of course" are gentlemen of experience and culture. The town has a population of 1,000 or more, and depends wholly upon the agricultural and stock interests for its support. The sanitary condition of the place is excellent, while the people are refined and congenial. The U. S. Land Office is also located here.

Hutchinson,

RENO COUNTY,

The county seat of Reno County, 141 miles from Topeka, is a well-built and enterprising city, handsomely located, and one of the best towns on the line of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad, containing a population of 1,800. All classes of mercantile houses are well represented, and the large crops usually produced from the fertile country surrounding the city (which also draws trade from many miles distant) tend to keep business active during the greater part of the year. Few cities of its years, for it is only about eight years old, can boast of a Junction City.

DAVIS COUNTY.

A place of 2,500 inhabitants and the county seat of Davis County, 137 miles west of Kansas City. It is at the junction of the M. K. & T. with the K. P. & Kearney City branch of the K. P. Railroad. Until quite recently the town, from some cause, was on the decline, but it has arisen from its depression and is now improving very rapidly. It is supported by the agricultural interests chiefly, though stock-raising is becoming an important factor in its common weal. The two papers published here are quite liberally supported. The schools are very fine, while the sanitary features are decidedly noticeable, being remarkably fine. The Pacific Hotel is the leading hotel of the place, the proprietors of which, Messrs. Gemeny & Son, by their courteous and polite treatment, deserve the success which attends their efforts to cater to the tastes of the traveling public. We heartily wish them the patronage they richly deserve.

COSMOPOLITAN HOTEL, Tombstone, A. T. C. BILICKE, Proprietor. EUROPEAN PLAN.

River, 235 miles west of Topeka, and 291 miles west of Atchison. The town is handsomely built, and is surrounded by a rich farming and grazing country, on which large flocks of sheep and cattle are raised, both water and grass being abundant. It is also a good wheat region, the average production usually being not less than twenty bushels to the acre. The city has a population of about 1,200, and the citizens are enterprising and thrifty. Society is excellent, and schools and churches well sustained.

Lawrence

Is the county seat of Douglas County, thirty-seven miles west of Kansas City, on the line of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, has a dleightful location for a city, is very handsomely built, and has a population of 10,000 souls. At one time in the history of the State, the city's enterprise was proverbial, but from some unaccountable cause her progress became impaired, and she finally ceased advancing altogether, finally beginning a retrograde movement that threatened disaster to her people pecuniarily. Her private residences are very pleasant homes, while the business and public buildings will compare very favorably with those of places much more metropolitan and pretentious. Still there is a dullness in her commerce and a want of activity in her manufacturing interests that is indeed deplorable; and why such a condition exists is more than we can tell. Certainly it is not for want of motive power for machinery, nor can it be attributed to a lack of fertility in her soil. At one time a street railroad was in active operation, but nothing bears evidence of its existence but the faint outlines of the roadbed, the rails and ties having been taken up some time since. Perhaps the kind of influence which gave to Kansas City her renewed growth will be felt by Lawrence before a great while, and she may therefore become a business center again. The schools of the place are good, the health excellent, and the people are of a generous and hospitable nature. As a place of residence we have seen none that suited our fancy better.

McPherson,

MCPHERSON COUNTY,

County seat, at the junction of the M. & M. branch of the A., T. & S. F. and a branch of the U. P. railroads; has a population of about 1,700, and does a large trade in hardware, agricultural implements, etc. The city has one flouring mill, five elevators, three hotels, a fine opera house, large brick and stone blocks, four churches, schools, etc. The county has a population of 18,000. During 1880, which was considered an unfavorable year, the county exported nearly 2,400 car-loads of wheat. Broom corn is an important crop, but corn, oats, rye, etc., and cattle and hogs are also largely raised. McPherson is distant from Topeka, 153 miles.

Nickerson,

RENO COUNTY,

Is a flourishing city of some 700 inhabitants. The designation of this point as a railroad division terminus has given a marked impetus to its growth. A thirty-two stall round-house, a new and well-fitted building for division headquarters and new machine shops are late improvements. The Nickerson Mining Company, operating in the New Placers District, New Mexico, has its headquarters in this place. The city has three hotels, two churches, a school house, a bank, and a flouring mill. Distance from Atchison, 229 miles; from Topeka 179 miles; from Pueblo, 389 miles.

Osage City,

OSAGE COUNTY,

Is the principal commercial center of Osage County, eighty-five miles west of Atchison. It is delightfully situated in the midst of one of the most fertile counties of the State, and has a most prosperous trade with the surrounding country, which is beautiful prairie land. Here are extensive coal mines, the mining of which is carried on by several wealthy companies, employing from 400 to 600 men. Nearly every branch of mercantile business is well represented, and the future of the city, now containing a population of over 2,000, is very promising.

Peabody,

MARION COUNTY.

This town is situated in the southwestern part of the county; has complete church and school facilities, and the people enjoy superior literary advantages in the possession of the Peabody Public Library, with its large and choice selections of works. It is under excellent management, being in charge of the three township officers; 1,500 volumes of the leading textbooks are found on its shelves. The library was erected and endowed by Mr. F. H. Peabody of Boston, a prominent stockholder of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé Railroad, and the patronymic of the town. It is free to all residents of Peabody Township. The principal industry of the people is in raising wheat and fine-blooded livestock. Silk culture is receiving some little attention. The town has two elevators, four churches, two flouring mills, a population of 1,100, and all branches of

Russell,

RUSSELL COUNTY.

Just 262 miles west of Kansas City and 376 miles east of Denver, on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, is where the thriving and prosperous county seat of Russell county is located. It is the largest place between Denver and Salina, having a population of 1,200. The scenic features of the country surrounding the place are very attractive, while the sanitary condition is very fine. It is growing very rapidly, and its business houses are very nearly all tastefully and substantially built of stone, while the sidewalks are laid with the same material. The public school building is two stories high, surrounded with an observatory, and is indeed a credit to the intelligence of the people, who are energetic and moral, and who believe in encouraging the establishment of institutions having a tendency to promote the interests of the whole country. There is a reciprocal feeling of kindness for one another that is not so apparent in many other communities. Although the indebtedness of the county is comparatively small, and although the construction of a more commodious Court House could be effected without endangering the credit of the county, the citizens prefer to postpone such an undertaking until it becomes an absolute necessity. For that reason the town is not adorned with a temple of justice that is in keeping with its general aspect. The streets run at right angles and the place is regularly laid out. Messrs. Dollison & Bro. are proprietors of a spicy sheet known as the Russell County Record, published weekly, and Mr. Stillman Mann, a very pleasant host, manages the helm of the leading hotel. The chief support of the place is derived from agriculture, a feature of that section that is worthy the notice of every one seeking an investment in productive lands. The water is good, and the general health excellent.

Salina.

SALINE COUNTY,

Is one of the most important towns of western Kansas, with a population of 3,000 souls. The place is very substantially built for one of its age, and possesses one of the finest school buildings in the State. It is a three-story brick, surmounted by an attractive observatory, in which has been placed a town clock. The streets are regularly laid out, running at right angles, and shaded with a uniform growth of shade trees of every variety. There are five newspapers, four English and one Swedish, all of which are prosperous and ably managed, thus showing the nature of the spirit which permeates the community. Like most of the towns along the line of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, the pretty little city bears evidences on every hand of improvement. The residences of the leading citizens are tastily and attractively built in roomy and neatly-arranged yards. The health of the place is always good, and its support comes from the agricultural interests. The soil surrounding the place is very rich and productive and the most of it thus far has been sown to grain, though the cultivation of corn can be profitably engaged in. Vegetables, fruits, hay and cereals of every kind are produced in abundance in ordinary seasons with proper cultivation. It is the county seat of Saline County, 184 miles west of Kansas City. The place is supplied with the usual number of hotels, where good accommodation can always be had. Business in some branches is overdone, though a short time will afford opportunities for others who may desire to locate in this section of the State.

Sedgwick,

HARVEY COUNTY.

The second city in size and importance in the county, and one of the prettiest little cities on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé R. R., is situated at the junction of Sand Creek and the Little Arkansas, about eight miles from the Arkansas River. It had a population in 1880 of 415; the estimated population in 1881 is 550. A railroad from Sedgwick to Halstead is contemplated. This railroad is much needed, owing to the largely increased shipments from this place. Distance from Topeka, 145 miles.

Solomon City,

DICKINSON COUNTY,

Is a station on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, 151 miles west of Kansas City, with a population of 700 souls. Although located in one of the richest agricultural sections of the State, from some unexplained reason, there is an absence of that activity and improvement which characterizes a majority of the adjacent towns. A great deal of grain is shipped from this point every year, which is spoken of by dealers as being of a superior character, while the flour made from it is very fine indeed. Until quite recently the place was without a paper, but the Wilson Brothers of Chicago, have established a very creditable sheet, which is called the Solomon City Sentinel, and which may become one of the fixed institutions, since the firm are made of material that push their "cherished objects" to a successful termination. The importance of constructing a town hall is being vigorously discussed by this spicy journal, and we hope to hear of the enterprise being inaugurated before the delivery of this book. L. B. Rogers is postmaster. There is a bank, a flouring mill, elevators, hotels and several business shops, none of which, however, are very imposing edifices. With an addition of public-spirited men to the population, the place might become a formidable rival of her neighboring sisters. There are a few, but, alas, their name is not "legion!"

Topeka,

SHAWNEE COUNTY,

The capital of the State, and the county seat of Shawnee County, is sixty miles west of Kansas City, on the Kansas Pacific Railway, and is really the eastern terminus of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad, though the latter extends to Atchison, on the Missouri River. It has a population of 20,000, and is improving very rapidly. The main offices of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad are located here, while the machine shops of the same corporation contribute not a little to the support of the city. The country, extending for miles on either side of the city, is very productive of cereals of every description, while tobacco, sugar-cane, vegetables, grapes and fruits of every variety grow luxuriantly, and form a feature of her agricultural and horticultural advantages that are worthy the highest consideration. The business houses of the place are nearly all confined to Kansas Avenue, the principal thoroughfare, some of which are very pretty and imposing structures. The public buildings of the State are all substantially and tastily built, and, in point of architectual design are perhaps inferior to none in the country. The grounds are very extensive and beautifully ornamented with choice shrubbery and plants, and the material used in their construction is a native stone, of the color of cream, found in unlimited quantities all along the line of the Kansas Pacific R. R. of which mention has been made in our sketch of that enterprise. The city is divided by the Kansas River, communication being made by an iron bridge of several spans, being about 500 feet in length. The residences are generally constructed with an eye to convenience more than to external show; yet there are a great many that are indeed handsome. The public schools are very fine, while the city is blessed with an excellent sanitary condition. The natural advantages for draining are excellent, the city being on a natural esplanade, which slopes from the river on either side.

Victoria,

ELLIS COUNTY.

This place is a station on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, 360 miles east of Denver, having a population of 300 souls. It was named by George Grant, the founder of an English colony, who bought a large tract of land and began its cultivation in 1875. The depot is a beautiful edifice, and the railroad company claims this as one of its best shipping stations.

Wa-Keeney,

TREGO COUNTY,

Is on the line of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, nearly midway between Denver and Kansas City, and has an enterprising, energetic, intelligent population of 500 souls. In the early part of 1878, two gentlemen by the names of Warren and Keeney, laid out a town site, and in order that they might mutually share the honor, agreed upon a suggestion to give the place a name formed from their respective surnames. It is to-day a beautiful exemplar of pluck, resolution and success. Where nothing but the undulating plains presented themselves a year and a half ago, perfectly destitute of everything save the wilderness of green which the luxuriant growth of grasses afforded, there is at present a pretty little town, full of activity and bustle, with a handsome depot, several nice stores, two newspapers, churches and school houses, besides several good hotels, chief among which is the Commercial, whose genial and whole-souled proprietor, F. A. Smith, deserves a liberal share of the public patronage, and by his courteous treatment of guests is sure to secure it. It is also the county seat of Trego County. The lands are being taken up very rapidly, and the many fields of waving, rustling corn which intrude themselves upon the view indicate a spirit of determination on the part of the settlers to become permanent residents that is certainly gratifying. There are also lumber yards where building material can be bought at reasonable figures, while a very good flouring mill supplies the flour and meal that is used.

Wichita,

SEDGWICK COUNTY,

The county seat of Sedgwick County, is located on a branch of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad, twenty-six miles from the main line at Newton, and 161 miles from Topeka. The city, long famous as headquarters for an extensive cattle drive from the southwest, has grown to a city of fair proportions, containing a population of 7,000. It contains a number of handsome private residences, churches and public buildings and a new Opera House adds its artistic attractions to the place. The location of the city, near the Arkansas River, affords abundant water privileges, and the country tributary for many miles in all directions is well settled and highly productive. Almost every description of business is abundantly represented, and the streets present a scene of business activity equal to that of many cities boasting a much larger population. The branch railroad has been extended as far south as Wellington, an hour and a half's ride southward, and this, with the St. Louis, Wichita and Western Railroad, will add greatly to the importance of the city as a commercial and business point.

Wilson,

ELLSWORTH COUNTY,

Is on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, 401 miles northeast of Denver, and is a thriving little town of about 400 inhabitants. There is a weekly newspaper published here, and it has some pleasant homes, as well as very good business houses. The depot of the railroad company is one of the prettiest on the line, which attests the importance of the place as a grain shipping point. The schools are good, while health is an attractive feature. All the religious denominations are represented, though the places of divine worship are limited. There are several hotels, of which the California House is the best, W. H. Carhart proprietor.

NEBRASKA.

ALPHABETICALLY.

Fairbury,

JEFFERSON COUNTY,

Is one of the thriving towns of southern Nebraska, which neither grasshopper, frost, hail nor drought has stopped from growing. Some 1,300 souls live there, and enjoy the luxury of a beautiful, timbered public square, and a magnificent school building. There is a bank with an elegant stone front of native stone cut in metropolitan style. There are also the usual varieties of businesses and clever business men; and among the latter is Mr. Jenkins of the Tremont Hotel, an old timer, who is very accommodating. It is 152 miles northwest of St. Joseph, Missouri, on the St. J. & W. Railway and 100 miles southeast of Grand Island.

St. Paul,

HOWARD COUNTY,

Is the present terminus of the St. Joseph & Western Railroad, and is twenty miles north of Grand Island. It is a growing town of some 800 souls, a great grain and potato center, and bids fair to become a railroad center. It has a Court House, hotels, churches, a bank, elevators, two newspapers—one the Free Press, having a cylinder press run by steam—etc., etc., that are of a character superior to those in many older places. Dr. Edward Fletcher is one of the pioneers of the place. He came there so early that he had to leave for a year or so until there should be more people.

MISSOURI.

ALPHABETICALLY.

Kansas City,

JACKSON COUNTY,

Is the second city in size and commercial importance in the State. It is situated upon the Missouri River, just below the mouth of the Kansas River, and bordering the Kansas State line. Its rapid growth since the war has been considered a marvel even in the Great West, where fast-growing cities form a characteristic feature of the country. The favorable location, the enterprise of its inhabitants, and the permanent character of the improvements, all indicate a prosperous and substantial future. There are fifteen railroad lines centering here, and the Union Depot is one of the most noted in the country. A heavy business is transacted here with all points of the compass, and those who are acquainted with the connections have denominated this point "a key to the continent." The last census gives the city a population of over 60,000.

ORDERS

Solicited by Mail.

DEAR READER:

EXCUSE what may appear a somewhat impertinent question; but where do you get your Dry Goods and Wearing Apparel? and do you get the best (in every respect) for your money? If you are in doubt as to your reply to the latter part of this question we would respectfully urge you to send for one of our Illustrated Catalogues and inform yourself as to what we have to sell, the prices we ask, and how easily you can procure anything you want.

We are located nearer to your territory with a larger, newer and in every way better stock of everything pertaining to the wardrobe of a lady, gentleman or child than any other establishment in this section of the country, and you can get your goods from here in less time than from anywhere else, and you can have goods sent by express at almost as little cost as by mail. By sending to us you will have the advantage of a selection from one of the largest and most varied stocks of Dry Goods in the United States. You can always rely upon every order you send us, large or small, being executed with accuracy and dispatch. You take no risk, goods that are not satisfactory can be returned and we will cheerfully refund the money if you wish.

Our new Fall and Winter Goods are now here—send for samples of anything you want to get—no charge—and no need to order if not suited. Send for one of our catalogues—no charge—only one 3-cent stamp for postage. We are now sending more Dry Goods through the mails and by express than all the other Dry Goods houses combined throughout the West. We are paying extraordinary attentions to your trade. We know what you want, and the best way to send it to you. We shall be pleased to hear from you, dear reader, and guarantee you perfect satisfaction in every transaction.

Respectfully,

G. Y. SMITH & CO.

The Largest Dry Goods House in Kansas City, Mo.

712, 714 and 716 Main Street.

JOURNAL COMPANY, PUBLISHERS.

DAILY--TRI-WEEKLY--WEEKLY

OLDEST ESTABLISHED DAILY IN THE MISSOURI VALLEY,

AND ACKNOWLEDGED

Republican Organ of the West.

THE DAILY JOURNAL, has the largest circulation of any Daily west of St. Louis. Circulates in Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Indian Territory, Texas and New Mexico. Its unequaled Market Reports by Telegraph make it the Great Business Newspaper. Its circulation makes it the best advertising medium in the West for any article or enterprise to be laid before an intelligent people.

THE TRI-WEEKLY JOURNAL is published Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays—a handsome eight-page paper, containing the latest telegraphic news, markets, etc., just the paper for interior points not reached by daily mails.

THE WEEKLY JOURNAL is manifestly the People's Paper. Forty-eight pages of well-selected matter; a complete summary of the news of the week; the latest telegrams, the markets, and choice miscellany, make it the most popular weekly paper published. It is distributed everywhere throughout the United States. Its low price of $1.00 per year and its uniform excellence makes it popular everywhere. Its circulation is increasing daily and hourly with unexampled rapidity. For general advertising it is an excellent and extensive medium.

St Joseph,

BUCHANAN COUNTY,

The principal commercial point in the northwestern section of the State. Has been a place of considerable note ever since the settlement of the famous Platte Purchase. In the palmy days of ox-wagon emigration across the plains, St. Joseph was a prominent outfitting point; and was the eastern terminus of the California Pony Express line. Besides its favorable location on the great Missouri River, it now boasts of railroad connection with all parts of the Union by means of leading routes. It is a pleasantly situated and substantially built city, has a population of over 20,000, and a bright prospect for the future.

The Northwestern Medical College
OF ST. JOSEPH, MISSOURI.

Its success has been very encouraging, as may be seen by its large Class List, and the number and respectability of its graduates. A good collection of furnishes each Department and Professor with valuable material for illustration and instruction of a practical nature.

Anatomical, Physiological, Chemical, Obstetrical & Surgical Appliances,

The Clinical resources are ample and varied, presenting all kinds of cases in Medicine and Surgery. Nearly every variety of disease may be seen, and almost every surgical operation may be witnessed by the student. Beside the Lectures upon the regular Department of Medicine, Lectures will also be delivered upon several specialities—Diseases of the Chest, Minor Surgery, Diseases of the Nervous System, Diseases of Children, Venereal Diseases, Opthalmology and Dentistry. No effort will be spared to make the School essentially a practical one. In the New West, from which the classes of the Northwestern Medical College will largely come, the young men are generally in moderate circumstances financially. Recognizing this fact, the Directors have determined to place the time at TWO FULL COURSES OF LECTURES, the last of which must be in this school, or three years continuous practice, instead of one course, and the fees at $35.00 each session. Graduation fee, $20.00.

The Faculty is composed of the following able and experienced teachers, who are and have been actively engaged in the Practice of Medicine in the West for many years, and who are therefore able to give instruction in the management of diseases of this climate.

FACULTY.

Alameda,

ALAMEDA COUNTY,

Is situated across the bay from San Francisco. This pretty residence burg stretches over more than five miles of the peninsula formed by Oakland Creek and San Francisco Bay. It is chiefly celebrated for its picturesque oak trees, handsome dwellings, public and private grounds and parks, and magnificent bathing establishments. These latter features are rapidly making it San Francisco's favorite resort. Two lines of railroad—the Central Pacific via Oakland, and the South Pacific Coast (narrow gauge)—keep up constant communication with San Francisco at all hours of the day, making it convenient for bathing and picnic parties, as well as for residence.

ALAMEDA BREWERY,

Corner Third and Santa Clara Avenues,

One Block from Third Avenue Station, Narrow-gauge Railroad, and two Blocks from Mastick Station, Oakland Route.

ALAMEDA, CAL.

The undersigned has leased the Alameda Brewery, and has refitted it with the latest improved machinery and apparatus for brewing purposes, which enables me to make the most sparkling, brilliant Pale Lager Beer, equal to any imported Milwaukee, St. Louis or Budweiser, and superior to any Beer manufactured on the Pacific Coast. There is no grape sugar, no glucose, no corn starch, no rice, no aloes, no molasses nor China sugar—nothing but the best and purest barley malt and choicest hops; also the most skillful management in brewing and fermentation.

I have also made here 4,000 gallons of fine Porter, now (8) months old. I challenge any brewer on the Pacific Coast to beat it, and to produce such a pleasant beverage of Porter in such short time. If my Porter gets the age of one year it will be equal to any imported from the Kingdom of Great Britain—double, treble, or any other X.

I am bottling Beer, California style, sharp; Milwaukee, St. Louis, Budweiser style, steam; Lager Beer, Bottle Porter, in quarts and pints.

Beer, 5 gal. keg, $1.25; 10 gal., $2.50; 15 gal., $3.50.
Porter, 5 gal. keg, $2.00; 10 gal., $3.50; 15 gal., $5.00.
Bottle Beer, quarts, $1.25 per dozen. Porter, quarts, $2.50; pints, $1.25 per dozen, delivered free of charge.

My Porter a specialty for ladies in feeble health or nursing babies; no headache, and you will not feel billious by drinking Alameda Brewery Beer and Porter.

☞ Patronize home industry.

H. SCHULER,
Practical Brewer.

Anaheim,

LOS ANGELES COUNTY,

Is twenty-six miles southeast of Los Angeles, on the San Diego branch of the S. P. R. R., thirteen miles north of Anaheim Landing. The town is situated in the center of a level plateau, 160 feet above the sea level. It is thirteen miles from the Pacific Ocean, and on three sides is, more or less, enclosed by foothills four miles distant, and little mountains ten miles distant.

To the eastward, sixty miles off, are the high mountains of the Sierra Madre, with snow-capped tops. To the westward is the ocean, with a fine sandy beach thirty miles in extent. The surrounding country is very fertile, and is planted in fruit orchards, vineyards and orange groves. Owing to the great fertility of the soil, and extraordinary quick growth of trees and vegetation in Southern California, homes may be raised in a very short time whose beauty it would take scores of years to attain in less favored localities. The population of Anaheim is nearly 2,000; the society is good, and musical entertainments are frequent. Game is plentiful, from grizzly bears in the mountains to quail and wild duck on the plains and creeks.

The temperature is very equable, and though the days are warm and sunny all the year round, they are never oppressively hot. The nights are bright and starry, and cool in midsummer. Rain falls at intervals during the winter months, and almost invariably at night, the mornings being fresh and invigorating. It is the unanimous testimony, both of physicians and travelers who have visited Anaheim, that the climate is unsurpassed as a health resort for invalids, especially those suffering from diseases of the chest. Numbers are the instances where persons who have come to this country under sentence of death from Eastern physicians, have returned home cured, or been so greatly benefited as to be able to enjoy life and pursue their avocations.

LODI, CALIFORNIA.

Los Angeles,

LOS ANGELES COUNTY,

Is the metropolis of Southern California, and is noted alike for its magnificent climate, its extensive orange orchards and its delightful situation. Being the diverging and converging point of five lines of railroad, it is made by the laws which govern trade the chief commercial center of the section, and with the increase in population which must follow the steady flow of immigration now directed to that quarter, her importance as an emporium of traffic must augment proportionately. At all seasons of the year the hills and valleys of the vicinity are covered with verdure, while flowers of rare beauty and fragrance blossom perpetually. The soil of the locality is very fertile, and yields abundantly. It is the county seat, and contains about 18,000 people, many of whom are of Spanish birth and descent. The city is beautifully laid out, has some magnificent residences and charming yards, while the business portion of the place is quite substantially and tastily built. The drive to the Pacific Ocean, seventeen miles distant, is an enjoyment any summer day that few, if any, who have experienced it, do not remember with expressions of ecstacy. If cloudless skies, lovely landscapes, balmy atmosphere, laden with the sweetest fragrance from the orange trees, and equable temperature, together with excellent society, are the only necessary elements in the "composition" of a Paradise, then certainly "the city of

Modesto,

STANISLAUS COUNTY,

Is a thriving agricultural town of 1,500 inhabitants. Its location in the San Joaquin Valley both as a place of residence and of business is most desirable, since it has been proven that the soil's capabilities of production are superior and the sanitary features most favorable. It is a well-built place, regularly laid out, and the commercial emporium of the county. The Court House is a pretty building, and the square is made attractive by the presence of flowers and shrubbery. It is on the Southern Pacific Railroad, eighteen miles from Lathrop.

Oakland,

ALAMEDA COUNTY.

As its name would indicate, this beautiful city of 40,000 inhabitants derived its appellation from a grove of live oaks that once occupied its site. With very few exceptions, if any, there are no prettier places in the State. Its streets are all very broad and smooth, well shaded and ornamented by some of the handsomest private residences we have ever seen. There is an air of comfort and "luxurious ease" in the roomy yards that impresses the visitor with the pleasantest assurances of an appreciation of life. There is an independence exhibited in her citizens that shows firmness of character, yet there is a courtesy of demeanor that is expressive of hospitality. There is an absence of want and poverty shown in her people of every class that speaks favorably of her progress and public spirit, elements essential to remarkable development. It is the county seat, and her public buildings display a pride in her beauty that is decidedly commendable. There are many seminaries for young ladies, as well as public schools and academies for the education of young gentlemen. The churches of the city are all handsome and costly edifices. It is distant from San Francisco, on San Francisco Bay, six miles, with which it has half-hour communication by elegant steam ferry boats.

Riverside,

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

This pretty place is distant seven miles from the town of Bernardino. It is surrounded by rich orange and lemon groves and raisin vineyards. The drives in the vicinity of Riverside are the most interesting in the State. There is an abundant water supply and a delightful climate. The Riverside House is the principal hotel of the place. It is a comfortable hostlery, kept by Mr. W. B. Wood, and it is not the least of the town's attractions.

Sacramento,

SACRAMENTO COUNTY.

Situated on the east bank of the Sacramento River, in the lovely valley bearing the same name, is the handsome capital of the Golden State. Until the year 1870 she was the western terminus of the Central Pacific Railway, the nation's greatest highway; but with the construction and immediate consolidation of the Western Pacific with that line, this honor was surrendered to the "suburban city on the bay," and she now contents herself with the title of a station, which that event conferred upon her. However, the possession of the machine shops of the powerful corporation is a source of great revenue, as there are constantly employed about 1,000 operatives, and through this fact her loss amounts to very little. Besides the Central Pacific, there are several other lines of railway which converge and diverge from the city, and they must ever prove valuable factors in the promotion of her commercial interests. Her position, geographically, is decidedly favorable, rendering the business men of the city invaluable aid in enlarging their trade, which, in their absence, must be circumscribed to very narrow limits by the competition of San Francisco merchants. By the enterprise and energy of her citizens, who have always been alive to the development of their city, she has reached the second place as a commercial emporium, and we bespeak for her a continued growth and an honored place in the rank of the most substantial cities of the coast. Her many avenues of trade are ornamented with splendid structures, well paved with cobble-stones, and brilliantly illuminated with gas, while many of them are traversed by lines of street railway, and well drained by an excellent system of sewerage. In the residence portions of the place the roomy yards, studded with palms and ferns, and ablaze in most seasons of the year with rare flowers, there are many objects of attraction. In the possession of magnificent private homes, Sacramento will compare favorably with any city of the same size in the Union. The railroad depot, constructed in the summer of 1879, and the beautiful capitol building are features of the place that deserve special notice. The former is composed principally of iron and glass, is upwards of 300 feet in length, and is conveniently subdivided into compartments peculiar to itself. The latter is a handsome structure, very commodious and attractively situated in lovely grounds, and surmounted by a dome 180 feet in height. Its cost was in the neighborhood of $5,000,000. The city is also well supplied with daily and weekly newspapers, the Record-Union, a morning paper, taking rank in age. The Bee, an evening journal, is a sprightly sheet, and the Journal, a German semi-weekly, ably represents the class in whose interest it is published. The press of the city is a credit to it, and the circulation of the papers show an appreciation that is commendable. The construction in the past year of many substantial business houses and residences, and the contemplated investment of capital in similar improvements the present year, is a happy commentary on her future growth. The population is estimated at 26,000.

Salinas City,

MONTEREY COUNTY,

Post-office and county seat, is a thriving and prosperous little city of 2,500 inhabitants, situated on the Southern Pacific Railroad, 118 miles from San Francisco. It is also reached by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's line of elegantly appointed steamers, whose docks at present are at Moss Landing, twelve miles distant, from which they contemplate constructing a canal, that the necessity of re-handling freight may be avoided, and which will be a great source of convenience. The city is supplied with water works; is very tastily and conveniently laid out, the streets running at right angles and being broad and smooth; and has a magnificent new Court House, which cost $60,000. The place is also well supplied with excellent schools and splendid hotels and is noted for its high order of society. The flouring mills of Messrs. Tobey & Hudson are very extensive, and the flour manufactured at them is found everywhere on the coast. The country surrounding the city is picturesque, and presents a spectacle of luxuriance, comfort and ease. Her business houses as a rule are substantial and neat structures, while her residences are models of elegance and architectural beauty.

San Bernardino,

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY,

Is a place of 3,000 inhabitants, beautifully situated in a lovely valley, and surrounded by the most fertile and productive bodies of agricultural land in the State. Its schools and churches are well supported, the climate is perfect, and the sanitary condition decidedly superior. There are quite a number of manufacturing and industrial enterprises permanently established, and the elements so essential to the steady and substantial development of a city are found in this locality in the form of good grazing and agricultural soil, plenty of water and timber, and a pure, stimulating atmosphere. It is the county seat, and is reached by a stage drive of three miles from Colton, on the Southern Pacific Railroad.

San Diego,

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

County seat. Situated near the southern extremity of California, fifteen miles from the Mexican line. It is 480 miles by sea, and less than 500 miles, via the Colton all-rail route, from San Francisco. There is no question but that San Diego is destined to become the metropolis of the new State of Southern California. Her natural advantages and added facilities point clearly to this fact. She possesses one of the only two land-locked harbors on the Pacific Coast of the United States, carrying twenty-three and a half feet of water over the bar at lowest tide, and of capacity to accommodate 1,000 ships of the largest class. It is to this valuable feature that San Diego is indebted for the attention and appreciation bestowed upon her by railroad capital. San Diego is the Pacific terminus of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad. The California division, known as the California Southern, from the bay of San Diego northward to San Bernardino (Colton) is now nearly completed, and trains are running over a considerable portion of it. Within two months from present writing (1st of January, 1882), the junction with the Southern Pacific will be effected, and it is expected that during the coming year trains will be running out of San Diego east on the thirty-fifth parallel. San Diego is also the southern terminus of the Southern Pacific Railroad of California—a mortgage having been recently filed in Los Angeles and San Diego Counties for the construction of the extension from Santa Ana to San Diego, which will undoubtedly be completed within the coming year. A road is also projected from a point on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, at or near Tombstone, A. T., to San Diego, giving the shortest line to New York and all points north and east. The location of the city fixes its position as the seaport and commercial center of all that great and variously productive region embracing Southern California, Southern Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, Lower California and Northern Mexico. The overland distance from all points on the Atlantic side to steamer at San Diego for Mexican and South American ports, the Sandwich Islands, Australasia, China and Japan, is just so much shortened. This saving of nearly 500 miles distance on a line never closed by snow, is a fact that makes its own argument. In natural resources, capacity for great variety of products, including mining and facilities for manufactures, San Diego acknowledges no superior on this coast. In point of climate it is conceded to have no equal among the health resorts of the world. Winter mean, 62°; spring mean, 66°; summer mean, 72°; fall mean, 68°; average yearly rainfall, ten inches; average number of rainy days in the year, twenty-one—(See United States Signal Service Reports, 1872–80). All citrous fruits, bananas, apples, pears, grapes, apricots, peaches, etc, grow to perfection, and ripe strawberries may be picked from our gardens every day in the year. Owing to railroad building and other causes, the population of San Diego is rapidly approaching 5,000. The principal hotel, as well as the marked architectural feature of the town is the Horton House, overlooking the plaza. It contains no less than 120 rooms, elegantly furnished, being the largest and best equipped hotel in Southern California, Mr. Hadley, favorably known in his connection with the Vance House of Eureka, California, is proprietor of the establishment, and fully sustains its old reputation.

San Jose,

SANTA CLARA COUNTY,

Is the county seat, situated in one of the most fertile valleys in the State, bounded by the Coast Range Mountains on the one side and the Santa Cruz Mountains on the other. It was settled more than a century ago by the Spanish missionaries, who gave it the name, which signifies "the beautiful." It ranks among the first cities of California in point of wealth. Its population is 15,000. Its streets are laid out in right angles, and are broad and smooth, and kept well watered throughout its length and breadth. It is particularly noted for its beautiful drives; in many avenues the trees form an arch over the driveway, and the houses are embowered in a dense growth of shrubbery and plants. There are an unusual number of elegant homes of fine architectural designs. Its schools and colleges rank among the highest in the State; its churches are models of beauty, and it boasts the finest Court House in the State. Santa Clara Valley is famed for its genial climate, magnificent scenery, and the fertility of its soil. San Jose is reached from San Francisco by two lines of railroad; the Southern Pacific and the South Pacific Coast (narrow guage). The unchanging and lovely scenery along either route, made up of hills and dales, dotted with home-like country residences, make the trip one of real pleasure. There are three banks, three daily newspapers, and good hotels, of which latter the St. James gives ample proof, with its good cheer and home-like treatment of its guests.

Santa Ana,

LOS ANGELES COUNTY,

Is the second city in every respect in the county, having a population of 3,000. The landscape of the section is incomparably beautiful, and the climatic features are superior. It is ten miles from the sea, and depends on the agricultural interests for its support. It is a prosperous place, and is well supplied with good schools, churches and society.

Stockton,

SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY,

Ninety-one miles from San Francisco, is one of the large cities of the great Sacramento Valley, situated on an arm of the San Joaquin River, which affords convenient communication by steam and sail with San Francisco. Upon approaching the city we pass the State Asylum for the insane, the two large buildings for the male and female patients respectively being conspicuous from the train. Stockton has a population of 17,000, is handsomely built, with fine gardens and shrubbery, and is the center of a large trade. The principal hotels here are the Yo Semite House, kept by the well-known caterer James Caven, Esq.; the Commercial, a large and fine house in the business center of the city; and the Grand Central, a new and elegant house, with all modern improvements. This enterprising city is the center of the finest wheat-producing sections of the whole State. It is also rapidly taking rank as one of the chief manufacturing cities of California, an industry which has been sadly lacking in this State, and upon the development of which depends much of its future greatness.

Watsonville,

SANTA CRUZ COUNTY,

Is a pretty and prosperous town, situated near the junction of the Southern Pacific and Santa Cruz railroads, about one mile from Pajaro station, distant from San Francisco 100 miles. The Pajaro valley, of which Watsonville is the commercial center, is one of the richest agricultural regions in the State. There are also large quantities of valuable redwood timber lands in the immediate vicinity, the products of which are disposed of at Watsonville. The agricultural and lumber interests being extensive, make Watsonville the center of a large and valuable business. In addition to the business attractions of the town is Camp Goodall, a watering-place on Monterey bay, four miles distant from the town. Its public schools are well maintained, and its business houses and private residences are handsomely built, indicating thrift and refinement. Its hotels, principal of which are the Mansion House and Lewis House, are beautiful buildings and well kept. The population of the town is 3,000.

West Oakland,

ALAMEDA COUNTY,

Is within the corporate limits of Oakland, though it has a distinct postoffice. It comprises all that part of the city lying west of Center street, and as an auxiliary in the creation of funds contributed to the support of the city's institutions is a factor of some importance. There are quite a number of substantial business houses and handsome residences, several schools and elegant churches, in this quarter of the city. Communication is had by horse and steam cars with Oakland and East Oakland, another division of the city.

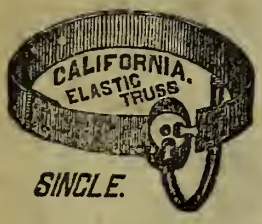
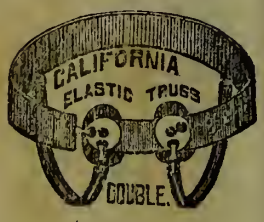
MANUFACTURERS OF



BEST IMPROVED TRUSSES,

Constructed on Scientific principles

AND SELL ON THEIR MERITS.



HIGH MEDICAL INDORSEMENTS.

Pacific Medical and Surgical Journal, San Francisco, March, 1881.

THE CALIFORNIA ELASTIC TRUSS.—We are not in the practice of recommending in our columns special medicines or appliances, especially when the recommendation is liable to be regarded as a puff for an advertisement. But we have no objection to saying that the Truss of the California Elastic Truss Company, after repeated trials of it, has given better satisfaction than any other form of the instrument.

Medico-Literary Journal, San Francisco, 1880.

"We are glad that the California Elastic Truss Co. have located in this city in their noble efforts in alleviating and curing those afflicted with Hernia. We believe the principle upon which their Trusses are constructed is the nearest perfection of any in the market, and so considered by the medical profession.

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE.

Hanford, Tulare Co., Cal., Dec. 18, 1880.

W. J. HORNE,—I received the Truss you sent me, and am highly pleased with it. Send some of your circulars to my father, James D. Muir, ————————, Mo. He is ruptured on both sides, and I think your Truss is just what he wants, and if in need of one I will send him one of yours. Respectfully, J. S. MUIR, M. D.

W. J. HORNE, Proprietor Cal. Elastic Truss Co. San Francisco, March 6, 1881.

Dear Sir: I can cheerfully testify to the merits and efficiency of your celebrated Truss. I have applied them in my practice to many of my patients during the past two years with great success and satisfaction to both the ruptured and myself. Wishing you success in the sale of your valuable Trusses, I am, yours respectfully,

C. S. HALEY, M. D., 920 Market Street, S. F.

A WONDERFUL CURE.

W. J. HORNE, ESQ., San Francisco. Lake View, Oregon, Nov. 1, 1880.

My Dear Sir: The Truss I purchased of you May 13th, 1878, price $10, I am happy to inform you, has performed a perfect cure of a rupture I had of 22 years' standing, after wearing it eighteen months. I have no hesitation in recommending it to the public and suffering humanity as a blessing to the afflicted. I have worked this last summer in a sawmill, hard lifting, without any Truss, and have not felt the least inconvenience or pain. I am thankful to say I am as sound as a dollar. I am yours very respectfully, H. RAPPELLE.

LATEST CURE.

Quincy, Cal.

W. J. HORNE, Proprietor: I received your letter of the 24th inst. to-day. The Truss you sent me last Spring has COMPLETELY CURED my rupture, which was small and not very bad. I have great faith in your Trusses. They will cure any rupture if it is not a very bad one. I do not know of any one in this vicinity that is ruptured but what has one of your Trusses, and all speak highly of them. You are at liberty to make any proper use of this letter you may wish. I remain, yours respectfully, C. W. SMITH.

A LADY CUERD—RUPTURED FROM CHILDHOOD.

TOMALES, Marin County, Cal., June 2, 1879.

W. J. HORNE, Proprietor CALIFORNIA ELASTIC TRUSS.—Dear Sir: I can cheerfully testify to the merits of your valuable Truss as it has effected a permanent cure of my painful rupture. I purchased the Truss of you June 18, 1877, price $10. It has done wonders for me in performing this cure, as I had been ruptured from childhood, and never expected to get cured. I have not worn any Truss for over one year. I can honestly advise any one to purchase your Truss, for I know its value after many years' experience with all kinds.

Yours, respectfully, MRS. M. STUMP.

LIVER AND KIDNEY DISEASE AND INDIGESTION CURED.

ELMIRA, Solano County, Cal., December 8, 1880.

. HORNE—Dear Sir: I have suffered for a long time with liver and kidney disease and indigestion. I tried hysicians without relief. Having heard a great deal about galvanic belts, I thought I would go to your city aine the many different belts and pads, all of which I found to be a humbug, as they had all been worn by friends of mine. After a careful examination I purchased one of your belts, and have worn it three months. stored my health entirely. I therefore recommend your belt, not only as a privilege, but as a duty I owe to llow-sufferers. Many thanks to you. Yours respectfully, L. WARNER.

FROM THE LEADING PATENT AGENT IN SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

J. HORNE, Prop., 702 Market Street. S. F.

r SIR: I have used your Electro-Magnetic Belt, and I deem it of incalculable value to those afflicted vous prostration and other kindred diseases.

mber 8, 1880. Yours, etc., C. W. M. SMITH, Pat. Agent and Lawyer, 224 Sansome Street, S. F.

STRONG INDORSEMENT.

. HORNE, Prop. Horne's Electro-Magnetic Belts. SAN FRANCISCO, July 23, 1880.

Sir: I have used your Electric Belt for some time, and am much pleased with it. It has great power, does ire the frequent use of acids, and is very durable. I can recommend it to all persons out of health and g treatment. Yours very truly, REV. H. LOOMIS, 320 Sansome Street, S. F.

WOULD NOT TAKE $20,000 FOR THE BELT.

. HORNE, Prop., San Francisco. EMMETT, San Benito County, Cal., July 24, 1880.

Sir: I can say, for one, that I have had the piles for nearly twenty years, and have suffered a thousand ntil I got your Belt, on the 12th of last March, and have not had any piles from th t day to this. I would not 000 for my belt if I could not get another one. I do think that you do not know the worth of your belts—but it is better than any medicine, for I have taken bushels of it and got no relief from the piles. * * * The lone everything for me. I cannot praise it too highly. Respectfully, E. A. REYNOLDS, Stock Raiser.

PERFORMED MIRACULOUS CURES.

. HORNE, Prop. Horne's Belt. DAVENPORT LANDING, Santa Cruz County, Cal., Feb. 18, 1881.

Sir: So far as my Belt is concerned I can cheerfully recommend it as performing some miraculous r instance, it has relieved, if not permanently cured, my wife of a weak back, she has been subject to for can say it has helped me greatly. Respectfully, M. W. SIMMS.

A LARGE MINE OWNER AND FRIEND CURED.

ORNE, Prop. Electric Belt. 34 ERA STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, May 5, 1881.

Sir: I take pleasure in stating your Electro-Magnetic Belt, which I purchased from you about eight months lly cured my kidney troubles and lame back from which I have suffered for years. I purchased another belt for my friend Mr. A. Bounds, of Madera, Fresno County, who was sorely afflicted like myself, and he now sitively that he is cured, sound and well. We both have unbounded faith in the curative qualities of your Belt. We consider them worth their weight in gold as a "doctor" in the house for future use, should we ately need it. My belt is as good, and the electric current just as strong, after eight months' use, as the day it, which cannot be truthfully claimed of any other belt. Respectfully yours, W. R. DEFREES.

NEURALGIA AND KIDNEY COMPLAINT CURED.

J. HORNE. GALT, Sacramento County, Cal., May 29, 1881.

Sir: I have been afflicted with the kidney complaint for over twenty years: also neuralgia for three years, uld not get anything that would give me only temporary relief, until I sent and got one of your Electro-Magelts, Oct. 12, 1880, about six months ago. I think now I am entirely well of both complaints. I would recommur Belt to any person that is afflicted with kidney or neuralgia, rheumatism, or any physical complaint.

Yours truly, R. HICKMAN.
